Landscape Issue: Car Lot to Remain Open

The Arata Pontiac Company used car lot on El Camino Real in San Bruno will remain open, at least for another two weeks, under an arrangement agreed to by members of the council Monday.

Councilmen agreed to postpone for two weeks their attempts to obtain a court injunction against their firm, pending final action by the planning commission on a new use permit application.

David Arata, a partner in the car dealership, presented plans

Monday which he said "more than meet the city's requirement of five per cent landscaping," and asked councilmen to rescind their revocation of his use permit.

Instead, the council agreed to seek a new hearing date for their suit to obtain the injunction, presently scheduled for hearing in Superior Court Friday, in order to give the planning commission time to study the landscaping plans, and take final action on the dealer's latest use permit application.

Arata's use permit was revoked March 11 on grounds the firm failed to comply with landscaping requirements agreed to when the permit was first granted in 1964.

After the old permit was rescinded, planners maintained the company would have to seek a new permit subject to the city's latest landscaping requirements, which are more strict than the 1964 regulations, and call for landscaping of five per cent of the total lot area.

Arata's plans indicate 1,600 square feet of the 31,048-square-foot lot, slightly more than the necessary five per cent, will be planted in plum trees, shrubbery, and other acceptable greenery.

He said the plans are otherwise in "full compliance" with city requirements, and planning commissioners have indicated they will approve the use permit at their next meeting.

Until then, the firm will be allowed to operate without a use permit.

Ask Rezoning For 355-Unit Apartments

Landowner E. V. Schulhauser asked the Daly City council to rezone some eight acres of land in the Serramonte area from C-2 (commercial) to R-3 (apartments) to pave the way for construction of 355 apartment house units.

The council set April 22 at 8 p.m. in the civic center chambers for a public hearing on the matter.

In his request, Schulhauser said his plans call for less than half the building density permitted under the present ordinance and parking facilities would also be greater than called for.

Planning Commission Secretary Anthony Masini, in recommending approval of the request, noted the terrain in the area was not suitable for development as a commercial site and the proposed apartment construction would be compatible with adjacent land uses.

Surrounding the site is the new site for the Jefferson Elementary School (Savage School); Clarinda Avenue; Serramonte Boulevard and the new Cabrillo Freeway.

In other action, the council accepted the final map of Serramonte Unit 4-b.

DECISION IS REVERSED

Jefferson Board Approves Fall Serramonte Opening

Staggered School Sessions

By WILL E. THOMAS

Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District Monday night reversed a previous decree and voted to go ahead with plans to start the new Serramonte High School on the campus of Westlake's Westmoor High School.

Coupled with that decision was a board directive that students of the two schools, for the 1968-69 term, would be taught in "staggered" sessions — a compromise plan "D" that is a mixture of sorts of "double" and "concurrent" concepts.

Trustee James Cooper of Pacifica, who had on March 11 moved that the district make no changes next term, explained that he had made a "previous error" at that time and offered a motion to rescind the earlier board action.

Under the previous board decision, proposed shifts of certain Jefferson High School and Westmoor students to Serramonte next year were ruled out.

However, Cooper said he had received additional information since that time that was sufficient to cause a change in his viewpoint.

In a revised schedule for staggered sessions, Westmoor classes will start the school day at 7:40 and complete their last class at 2 p.m.

Serramonte classes will begin (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

'Unusual' JUHSDTA, AFT Unity

Backed by an audience of some 150 Jefferson Union High School teachers at Terra Nova high school Monday night, and in an unusual show of unanimity, teachers and administrators alike urged trustees reconsider a March 11 edict against opening of Serramonte high school on the Westmoor campus in Daly City next year.

Somewhat taken aback by the almost unprecedented unification of the district Teachers Association and the American Federation of Teachers, trustees heard leaders of the two teacher organizations deliver a prepared joint statement asking for reversal of the earlier decision in favor of staggered sessions at Westmoor for Serramonte and Westmoor students.

This combined plea from AFT and JUHSDTA was followed immediately by a similar urging from the Association of Jefferson Administrators.

Candidates Angry Over City Charge

Incumbent Daly City Councilman Anthony Giammona and Frank Pacelli reacted angrily Monday to a charge they skipped past a C.I.T.Y. meeting March 21 without good reason.

"We both had other commitments on that night and just couldn't make the meeting," Pacelli explained.

Pacelli said both he and Giammona had obligated themselves to attend other meetings on the same night the Community Interaction Through Youth (CITY) group held their candidates' night.

One of the candidates appearing before the group, MacRobert Stewart, charged the present council was ineffectual and does not adequately represent all the people in the city.

And he further charged the fact that neither incumbent showed up at the meeting proved his point.

"Not so. We did not shun this meeting for no good reason," said before, we were already committed and had no choice," Pacelli said.

DC Citizens Group Pushing Abolition of Jeff's Lines

Board Gets The Backing Of Teachers

In a special joint meeting Monday night at Terra Nova High School in Pacifica, members of the Jefferson Union High School District Teachers' Association and the American Federation of Teachers voted unanimously to back trustees against any consequences of their decision to institute staggered sessions for Serramonte and Westmoor High Schools at Westmoor next year.

Dion Dubois, president of AFT, commented that the action by the board will "move the whole district forward."

The first push for "double sessions" prior to the birth of the "staggered session" proposal was from the teachers at Westmoor.

The two groups also set in motion plans to contact parent organizations to notify them of the "possibilities of a recall movement and to request aid for the board if needed."

Blind SSF Chess Player Enters Braille Tourney

By DON GRIERSON

Blind chess enthusiast Grant Metcalf of South San Francisco will depart from International Airport Wednesday on the first leg of his journey to the Third Blind Chess Olympiad in Weymouth, England, realizing an ambition which he has nurtured for more than two years.

Metcalf, 27, organized the U.S. Braille Chess Association over a year ago in the hope this country could send a team to the international tournament.

The organization he founded sponsored an elimination tournament last year in San Francisco, and Metcalf himself was selected as one of four players to compete in the International Olympiad after winning a tie for first place in the Northern California competition.

The other three players on the U.S. team are Dr. James R. Slagle of Maryland, chess master Albert Sandrin, a teacher of chess classes for the Chicago YMCA, and Rodderick J. McDonald, of Arlington, Mass., who plays chess through the mails.

The four players, along with two sighted guides, will convene in New York prior to the final leg of their flight to England this week.

Blind players from 19 countries will participate in the tournament, Metcalf said; and the visitors will be guests of the Royal National Institute for the Blind while in England.

The U.S. team is being sponsored by the Piatigorsky Foundation, and "En Passant," the sound magazine for blind chess enthusiasts.

Metcalf, who plays the organ professionally, first became interested in chess as a child, but did not become a "serious player" until 1964, when he joined the San Bruno Chess Club.

He won the club's "C" Division championship in 1965 and 1966, and received the trophy for "most improved player" last week.

Accompanying Metcalf on the flight to New York will be T. P. Perry of Fairfield, American representative for "En Passant," and co-founder of the U.S.B.C.A.

The other sighted guide is international chess master George Koltanowski.

Metcalf said the championship play-off will be in the form of an "all-play-all" tournament between the four-member teams.

Other countries represented will include Austria, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Ireland, Holland, France, Spain, Sweden, Hungary, Poland, Yugoslavia, Israel, Rumania, East Germany, and West Germany.

Numbers performed at the festival included "Dizzy Atmosphere," "Allemande," "Auster," and "Spring Can Really Hang You Up the Most," a new composition by Larry Blake, a former Westmoor student.

Featured soloists with the El Camino band were vocalist Shirley Cavallaro, who sang "Misery," Larry Mallarino, Dennis Gorman, Mike Comer and Tom Graf.

The El Camino band played musical arrangements by San Mateo composer Matt Schon.

Two of the Westmoor students, Bill Brown and Mike Hinton, were offered scholarships as a result of their performances.

The South San Francisco High School stage band won "honorable mention" at the festival.

'Academic' Concept Suggested

Dr. Sanford A. Marcus of Daly City said Monday night that educational excellence in the Jefferson High School District "is anything but," as he disclosed a plan for an open-enrollment concept, and an "academic high school."

Dr. Marcus is the spokesman for the Citizens Steering Committee, made up of Westlake residents who opposed boundary changes, busing and Serramonte High School location.

Noting that he would push for an "academic" high school at Serramonte, Dr. Marcus said such a school would be "open to all students in the district who aspire to a university education and who have demonstrated their capacity to achieve in an environment where standards will be admittedly higher and the work-load more intensive and competitive."

Dr. Marcus explained that under this plan, "an integral part... is that all the high schools of the district should be placed on an open-enrollment basis, as much of the overcrowdedness that presently exists should then be alleviated."

"This, of course, he stated, "will relieve the district of any problems relating to de facto segregation, now or in the future."

"By the voluntary nature of the open-enrollment policy there (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

County To Fight S.F. Tax Plan

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson of San Mateo County told the Board of Supervisors Tuesday that he believes the proposed commuter tax in San Francisco would be unconstitutional.

What's more, Sorenson said, the board would be within its rights to take the matter to court on behalf of the commuters if it is desired.

Board Chairman James V. Fitzgerald asked the district attorney last week to look into the validity of San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto's proposal to impose a 1 per cent levy on the (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

County Is Sued For $100,000

A lawsuit to recover more than $100,000 in taxes from the county and South San Francisco was filed in Superior Court Wednesday by Hunt Foods and Industries Inc. and W.P. Fuller Inc.

The suit claims that the value of machinery, equipment, furniture and fixtures in the Fuller Paint Company plant in South San Francisco was erroneously reported by the company and illegally assessed by the county.

Values for 1964 through 1966 should have been reported at $4,014,414 instead of $9,693,404, according to the suit. The over-reporting resulted in the payment of $70,416 in excess taxes.

Forden Athearn, attorney for

Hunt and Fuller, made several appearances before the County Board of Supervisors last year demanding recovery of the taxes. He said the error occurred because, in computing values, the fact that Hunt purchased the paint company at a fraction of its original value was not taken into account. The board denied a refund.

A second part of the suit involves an escape assessment levied last year for taxes on inventory that was under-reported. The firm paid $42,736 plus $2,564 in penalties but the board reduced the totals to $31,710 and $1,794 and refunded the difference.

The suit asks for the return of those amounts, plus the $70,416 claimed overpayment.

'Monorail' Plan Shakes S.M. Transit

By FRANK LAPIERRE

San Francisco's proposed $97 million "monorail" system directed to International Airport has badly shaken West Bay Rapid Transit Authority staff officials.

WBRTA general manager John C. Lilly, in a letter to board members, called the monorail proposal "a fragmentarily planned, single function system" which will bleed off revenues from the airport and could hike the tax load for San Mateo County citizens, who must foot the bill for any mass transit system on the Peninsula.

Lilly said the Joint Ventures staff was alarmed about the prospects of the monorail plan and expressed the hope that San Francisco will hold off on construction of the system until such time as WBRTA can come up with their own transit plan for both the airport and Peninsula area.

Actually, the "monorail" system that has been proposed by San Francisco planners is a "beamrail" system that hangs suspended from an overhead rail some 35 feet off the ground. At points along the route (over two shipping channels) it will soar some 150 feet into the air.

Experts claim the system is not compatible with any existing or proposed system for either San Francisco or the Peninsula and have suggested other alternate transit systems to serve the airport.

Daly City councilman and WBRTA director Michael De Bernardi suggests a BART (wide rail) type system be extended from the present terminus station in Daly City down the Southern Pacific right-of-way for the entire length of the Peninsula (supposedly to San Jose) with a "loop line" from San Bruno to the airport and back onto the main line in the Millbrae - Burlingame area.

Every third train could be scheduled to make the International Airport loop line run — more frequently if required, De Bernardi said.

If the monorail system, designed by General Electric Corporation, is constructed, users will be hit with a stiff $2 one-way fare and will only be able to commute to and from Fourth and Mission streets in San Francisco. Present SP commuter trains run to the Third and Townsend street depot and passengers must transfer to buses for transportation to other parts of the city.

The proposed G-E "Safege" trains will possibly make stops at Brisbane, Candlestick Park and the Cow Palace, a spokesman said. Money will be the determining factor in dictating which, if any, of these stops will be cut in the final plans.

The entire monorail system will be dependent on airport passenger revenues to amortize the $97 million in capital costs, in addition to meeting operating and maintenance expenses, the proposal states.

Land and rights-of-way are expected to be donated — free — by various cities along the route.

In a memorandum from WBRTA engineer Ronald J. Fisher regarding the monorail, it was pointed out that about half of the line's patronage must come from motorists who elect to use the system and leave their cars at home. This "guesstimate" is based on the assumption that all bus, taxi and hotel limousine users are diverted to the system.

And while airline passengers may not hesitate to pay $2 for the ride, workers at the airport would probably be reluctant to pay $4 (roundtrip) for the ride, experts feel.

In working out the revenue estimates for the line, these workers were not included, "which is a safe assumption since the system is not intended to serve these people," according to Fisher's report.

The running time between the airport and San Francisco is six minutes flat.

To maintain this tight time schedule limited access to the system is absolutely necessary.

Presently, some 50 per cent of air passengers use bus, taxi or hotel limousine services between the airport and the north Peninsula area.

"There is considerable risk in the assumption that this venture will amortize all the capital costs from user revenues," Fisher explained.

In addition to some claims which indicate the "beamrail" will not only be unsightly, non-compatible with other rapid transit systems, and a possible financial risk, there are those who feel San Francisco's proposal runs contrary to a modern approach to solving the county's mass transit dilemma.

Gun Mishap To War Vet

An Army veteran of the Vietnam War accidentally shot himself while cleaning a pistol in his Daly City home last Tuesday night.

Police said Lawrence T. Jones, 24, of 40 Christopher Court, shot himself in the left hand and left knee when the .32 caliber pistol discharged.

Officer William Moeller said Jones, home on leave before reporting for assignment on Guam, had purchased the gun in the East before coming home and was apparently unfamiliar with it.

The victim was treated at Mary's Help Hospital and released.

RESEARCH
Nearly $24 million was spent last year on research and development, with the federal government supplying approximately 63 per cent of the total and the remainder coming primarily from private industry.

Daly City Police Ask 5% Pay Hike

Daly City police have asked the Personnel Board for an across-the-board pay hike of five per cent along with a standardized pay differential between various ranks.

Police Captain David Hansen, armed with brochures and visual aid materials, presented the department's request during a regular meeting of the board Thursday.

The residency requirement, which prohibits city employees from living outside Daly City was also brought.

Captain Hansen said the board was familiar "with our stand on this matter" and again asked the requirement be lifted.

A straight 50 per cent retirement salary, instead of the present alternating system of fixing retired policemen's pay was also asked by the department.

The public hearing was the first in a series on employee's salary and fringe benefits requests for 1968-69.

A variety of special programs are sponsored by the City's Recreation Department. In this picture, girls show their skill in an after school Girls' Gymnastics Class.

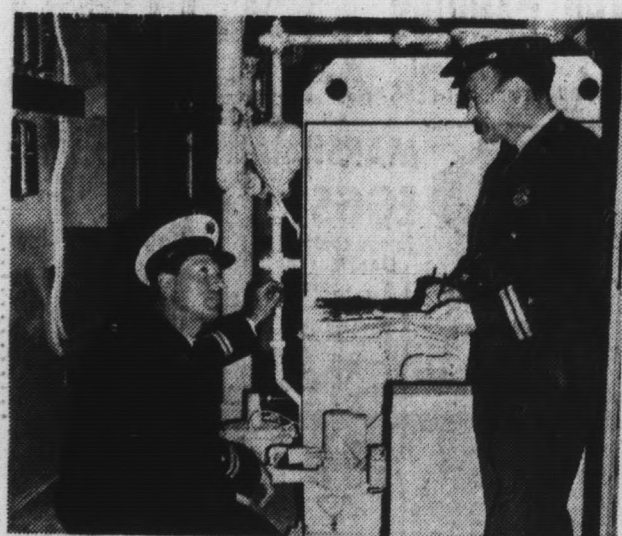

Regularly conducted tests assure City residents that their water is pure and does not contain minerals or other substances damaging to health.

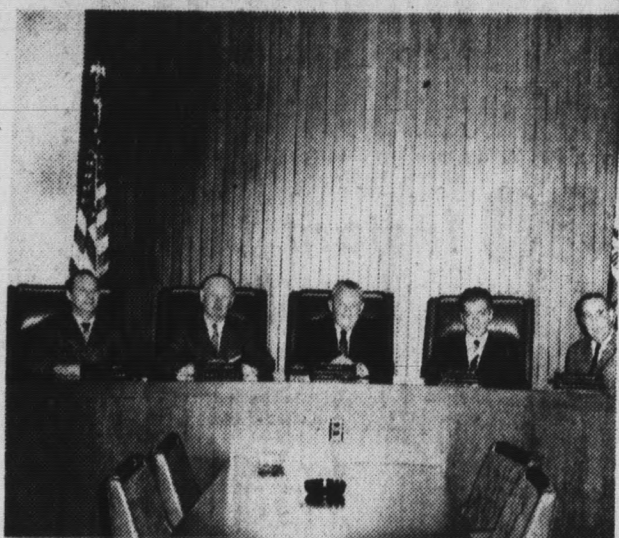

The new Civic Center Communications Center includes the most modern in public safety radio and electronic equipment.

Playground and other recreation activities are conducted daily at 35 Parks and Schools throughout the City providing residents many hours of enjoyment.

Fire Prevention and Inspection is a continuing function of the City Fire Department. Pictured are Fire Inspectors checking a large furnace to assure public safety.

DALY CITY ANNUAL REPORT 1967

City Offices were combined under one roof for the first time in many years, when the new $3½ million Civic Center was dedicated in May of this year. Completion of this outstanding building marked the conclusion of more than five years of study, planning and construction.

PUBLIC WORKS

The Public Works program includes a large number of City functions. Many improvements were made in the areas of streets, parks and the water system.

During 1967, construction permits were issued for almost $14 million of new private construction within the City. Plans were checked for each structure and construction continuously inspected.

Major projects undertaken for park improvement and landscaping included the Canterbury Tot Lot, the City Beautification program, planting of 400 trees, landscaping of the Civic Center, Serranito Reservoir, and Westlake Pump House.

Street improvements during 1967 included Washington Avenue widening, Sullivan and Southgate extensions and $109,000 programmed street resurfacing.

PUBLIC SAFETY

During 1967, the Fire Department responded to a total of 2,615 calls. Fire losses totaled $284,375. As part of the Department's training program, 32 officers and men completed Fire Science courses at San Mateo College and received Fire Science Certificates.

The Police Department moved from their cramped quarters in the old City Hall into the Civic Center police facility, the most modern in the County. The Department initiated a comprehensive community relations and training program to improve public understanding and contacts with police. The training provides members of the department with greater insight to the social characteristics of the City.

RECREATION AND LIBRARY

The programs of the Recreation Department are designed to provide activities for all ages and interests. The City has agreements with five school districts for cooperative programs on recreation facilities and services. As a result of the joint efforts, programmed activities are scheduled on 35 facilities.

Continued expansion of the recreation program now includes 14 adult activities from Flower Arranging to Men's Judo Classes. The Department sponsors eight Teen Clubs which meet in each area of the City.

The Athletic program offers year-round sports to more than 3,000 participants. Registered borrowers of the Library increased during 1967 to 38,800 and volumes circulated were 365,551.

The Library added a variety of materials to the collection now totaling 86,258 books, 1,833 records and 187 films. The Children's Program was evaluated and revised to provide additional story hours and new special events.

Parks Division personnel are planting trees at a water reservoir as part of the City's Beautification Program. More than 400 trees were planted and six acres landscaped during 1967.

The City Clerk's Office has initiated a centralized permanent record retention program utilizing modern microfilm record-keeping techniques.

FROM THE CITY MANAGER:

Under the leadership and direction of the Council, achievements and progress during the last year have been outstanding. This annual report submitted bears out the successful programs over the years for continued improvements on capital expenditures and in services rendered. Increasing community governmental needs continue on the basis of an economy that does not upset the tax structure and continues with a "pay-as-you-go" policy.

The citizens of Daly City can be proud of the accomplishments of this last year. Outstanding is the new City Hall that has been acclaimed as one of the finest in the State and was planned to take care of future needs as the City grows. The other project that will have far reaching effects on the City was the start of a General Plan. This $100,000 project will be completed in 1968. Other accomplishments are listed with many more to come as we continue "progress with growth."

All these improvements and services could not be possible without teamwork on the part of the citizens, City personnel, commissions, school districts, service clubs, Chamber of Commerce, and the City Council. 1967 will be a year to be remembered historically in Daly City.

EDWARD FRANK

Dear Fellow Citizens:

March 20, 1968

The continuous growth of Daly City adds to a greater need for responsible elected leadership. This leadership is fulfilled by the Mayor and Council. This growth is evidenced by the census taken last November, whereby our population is now 65,233. With the development of the Serranito complex and other areas throughout the City, anticipated growth indicates continuing increase in all areas of service and capital outlay projects. The new shopping center will generate approximately one-half million dollars in sales tax. A "General Plan" will be forthcoming this year. This should be a guide whereby direction of orderly growth will continue. At the same time there will be placed additional responsibility on the Mayor and Council for proper policy legislation involving such services and financing whereby implementation of the General Plan may be accomplished with the least cost to the taxpayer.

Council policy has kept our tax structure on an even keel and bonded indebtedness is less than one-half of one percent of our bonding capacity. Our City is the lowest in bonded indebtedness of comparable size in the State of California. Our new City Hall completed last year is the envy of cities throughout the State. Our police complex is the most modern of any city less than 100,000 in the United States. The submitted 1967 report reflects your community investment in the many improvements as well as in services rendered. Many more are on the way during the years to come.

Continued interest and participation by citizens in municipal affairs are welcome. Your Council is ready and willing to carry on good government in its administration for the benefit of all the people.

Very truly yours,
Bernard J. Lycett
Mayor

The Michael Gary Linders To Reside in San Diego

San Diego is the first home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gary Linder (Kathryn Marie Thannisch) who were married recently at the Calvary Lutheran Church in Millbrae before the Rev. Vernon Rustad.

Kathryn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Thannisch of San Bruno, wore a white flocked silk organza gown with a satin cowl collar and satin hemline over a peau de soie dress. She carried white phalaenopsis orchids, hyacinth and lilies of the valley which were flown in from West Germany for the bride.

Mrs. Russell Harvey was the matron of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids included

Peggy Williams and Rosalind Cook, both of Riverside. They wore Empire gowns in orchid satin.

Dr. Bill J. Linder of Arlington, Tex., served as best man for his brother. Both are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl A. Linder of Corona. Guests were seated by Russell T. Harvey, brother-in-law of the bride, and Richard Gary of Newport Beach.

The couple received guests at the Green Hills Country Club in Millbrae. Among the guests were Mrs. Ellsworth Payton of Fort Worth, Tex., and Mrs. David Lafourquette of San Bruno, grandmothers of the bride, each of whom gave her an heirloom handkerchief to carry.

The new matron was graduated from Capuchino High School and attended the University of California at Riverside and Riverside City College. She also is a member of the Job's Daughters of San Bruno. Her husband is a graduate of Fullerton High School in Corona.

Engagement News Told Two Times

Mills College classmates learned of the engagement of Francisca de Larios to Roy Hansen at a traditional candle-light ceremony. Her parents, the Hon. F. J. de Larios and Mrs. de Larios of South San Francisco, made a similar announcement at a family dinner party.

Cisca, as the bride-elect is called, will graduate in June from Mills and plans to do graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley. She is the sister of Boyd and Joseph de Larios and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis F. Folsom of Carson City, Nev. She traces her family back to the Gilman Folsoms who arrived in California in the 1850's on her mother's side and to Californians of 1770's on her father's side.

Roy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Hansen of San Francisco, is an alumnus of San Jose State College.

A 'Spring Serenade'

Pat Collins, the lively young hostess of KPIX television's new Hot Line Show will be the guest commentator tomorrow afternoon when members and guests of the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home gather for the unit's fifth annual fashion show and luncheon benefit.

Miss Collins, a recent arrival from Washington, D.C., where she worked as a newspaper reporter, columnist, feature writer and a fashion authority, will lend her talent and wit to the description of gowns from the varied collection of Rodina of Stonestown, according to Mrs. Murray H. Freedman, publicity chairman for the circle.

A limited number of tickets are still available for the event. Mrs. Freedman urged anyone wishing to obtain reservations to call Mrs. Frank Greenwood, 756-7916 or Mrs. William George, 756-7453, immediately.

Mrs. Thomas Bocci, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Poggio are the co-chairmen of the program which has been cleverly designed around the theme A Spring Serenade. The Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae will provide the setting for the presentation.

recital. Mrs. Stolz explained. No date has yet been announced as yet for this season's program.

Mrs. Diane Poehleman, an active member of the Art Guild of Pacifica, is responsible for the colorful and interesting exhibit of oils currently on display in the First Western Bank in Westlake.

Twenty of the award winning artist's canvases will be show through the month of April, according to notes in the Dirty Palette.

In other news about the Art Guild of Pacifica Mrs. Lucy Muir, Clair Early and Mrs. Shirley Scolini have been appointed to the entry registration committee for the May 11 and 12 Festival of Arts at Sanchez Adobe.

Mrs. Sherri Thomas, Hermann Leger and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Buchanan will be doing the posters and publicity for the festival; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hegedus are chairmen of Art in Action; Luther Spraker and Robert Southworth will hang the show and Gino Dianda will be in charge of music.

"Aloha" has been selected as the theme for Riorland High School's Spring Festival, according to Westlake's Albert Bucci, the general chairman of the annual fund raising.

Bucci heads a long list of localities who will be taking active part in the April 27 and 28 benefit to be staged in the school building, 175 Phelan Avenue in San Francisco.

The Fifty Plus Club of Pacifica's members are off to Death Valley next month for a look at the famed beauty of the desert in the springtime.

Plans call for the group to leave Pacifica on April 22 for five nights and six days of sightseeing.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calkin, Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg or Fabian Bettencourt will accept reservations which are accompanied by a $25 deposit.

Mrs. Patti Parks Stolz reports, with a great deal of enthusiasm, that the Community Showcase '68, to be presented by the members of her Beginning Voice and Theory class and the Advanced Voice Workshop, shows every sign of being an exceptionally fine production.

Both of the classes are a part of the Jefferson Union High School District's Adult Education Department, and each spring the students take part in a community concert-

Members of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild are "off and running" with plans for a benefit Day at the Races to be held at Golden Gate Fields on Wednesday, April 17.

Mrs. Melvin Gianola, publicity chairman, reports that tickets will be sold for $7.50 and will include Turf Club admission, a buffet lunch and bus transportation to and from Westlake.

Mrs. Frank Lawson, chairman of this annual event, will provide information or will arrange reservation for persons calling her at 755-2116.

The Day at the Races serves as the kick-off event for the guild's annual Fuchsia Ball slated for a May debut.

Treasure Island Book Fair, to feature a "bounty-full" booty of literary treasures for the young, will be the name of the Vista Mar P-TA spring book fair, according to Mrs. Richard Lowe, the unit publicity chairman.

The date for this year's fair will be April 23 and children will be able to browse through the selection during school hours and select from among the classics and popular children's literature that will be offered at bargain prices ranging from 35 to 50 cents each.

Parents who wish to do some shopping for their youngsters will be able to do so during the open house scheduled for that same evening, Mrs. Lowe explained.

Feeney Seeks Pacifica Post

Bill Feeney, Pacifica's "outstanding young man" of 1966 and charter president of the city's Jaycee chapter, is one of seven candidates seeking two seats on the council in the April 9 election.

A native of Fargo, N. D., Feeney has been active in a host of civic activities since moving to Pacifica in 1958.

In addition to a long list of Jaycee project committees, he has served on the Laguna Salada School District Housing Committee, is chairman of the nominating committee for the Interfaith Committee on Social Justice, and also served as chairman of the Beach Bond Acquisition Committee.

He is a member or past member of the Pacific Hospital Study Committee, by-laws committee of the Pacific Association for the Performing Arts, and the Portolá Bicentennial Expedition Committee.

Feeney also serves as chairman of the San Mateo County Assessment Appeals Board.

"I have been active in many areas of the community, and I know some of Pacifica's problems," he said this week. "I think I can provide the leadership necessary for solving these problems."

"I feel that many of our problems have not resulted from a lack of constructive ideas, but from the lack of the necessary dynamic leadership in the city council," the candidate said.

"Important decisions which could have solved many of our current problems have been denied the citizens of our city," he said. "The shelving of committee recommendations has been a consistent practice with past councils."

Feeney also charged past council members with "factionalism."

"The antagonisms which have resulted from past council members affiliating themselves with various factions have hampered them from arriving at solutions which would have meant progress for our city," he said.

A real estate appraiser for the Equitable Life Assurance Society, Feeney is married and has three children.

He is a graduate of the North Dakota State University, with a degree in economics and political science.

THAT THE CANCER fight "is a family affair" — this year's Cancer Crusade campaign message — is illustrated here by these North County families: (left to right, clockwise, from bottom), with Daly City's Mayor Bernard Lycett in center) Greg Tierney, Mrs. Ernestine Tierney, Ray Tierney, Mrs. Eleanor Guisti, Louis Guisti and son, Greg, the James Ocampos and son, James, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stehle and daughter Leanna. Drive kickoff date is March 28. (Post Photo)

Area Pleads For End of Fatalities

By DON GRIERSON

Passage of a proposed one-cent-per-gallon sales tax increase on gasoline would "probably enable the state to include the 186 Freeway between Pacifica and San Bruno in next year's budget," a California highway commissioner said Wednesday.

Alexander H. Pope, commissioner from Los Angeles, made the statement at a Sacramento meeting attended by 25 delegates from the North County.

South San Francisco Assemblyman Leo Ryan, one of the civic leaders and government officials using "A" priority for the project, told commissioners he would "definitely support the tax measure on that basis."

"We have a special situation in Northern San Mateo County," Ryan said. "San Francisco International Airport is not truly a local facility, but is a facility which serves all of Northern California."

"I feel the complex traffic problems generated by the airport should be given top regional priority, and top priority in San Mateo County," he said.

Dale H. Fearn, assistant general manager at the airport, told commissioners the $110 million airport improvement plans approved Tuesday by the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission will double passenger capacity within the next seven years.

"These plans include new entrance and exit roads onto Bayshore Freeway capable of carrying a traffic load identical to that of the Oakland Bay Bridge," he said.

These five-lane access roads will merge with a stretch of freeway "which is already inadequate," he said.

"During the peak periods, 1,400 vehicles per hour now merge into the freeway traffic," Fearn said. "By 1973, the figure will have reached 2,300 cars per hour."

"I am afraid we are not moving fast enough, and there are going to be some monumental traffic jams if new arterials are not completed soon," the airport spokesman said.

Senator Richard Dolwig also warned commission members of an impending "deluge of traffic" from the airport, and recommended early completion of the east-west 186 Route as a "partial remedy."

"Supersonic planes which will double the air traffic at the airport are already in production," he said, "and even larger aircraft are on the drawing boards and scheduled for use by 1975."

Both Dolwig and Ryan urged completion of "at least the section of 186 between Bayshore Freeway and El Camino Real" by next year.

"The congestion is tremendous today," Ryan said, "and the prospects for the future are almost enough to warrant pushing the panic button."

City officials and chamber of commerce leaders from Pacifica and San Bruno showed a movie taken from an automobile traversing treacherous Sharp Park Road, the only direct connection route between the Coastside and Bayshore.

Still photographs of a number of serious accidents were also submitted.

There were 50 accidents on the road during 1967, according to Pacifica Mayor Grace McCarthy and Councilman Harold Minshew, with 19 persons injured and one fatality.

"The situation now is so urgent as to constitute an emergency," Minshew said.

Pacifica Chamber of Commerce President Bernie Cohn, Bernard Lake, manager of the Pacifica chamber, and San Bruno Chamber of Commerce Manager Larry Mobley spoke on the economic handicaps imposed upon the area by the lack of an adequate access route.

Freight rates in Pacifica are abnormally high because of the roundabout routes into the city, and both Pacifica and San Bruno's business and residential development is hampered by the situation, according to the chamber spokesman.

Other North County officials attending the meeting included Pacifica Councilmen Nick Gust and Daniel Modena, San Bruno Councilmen Karney Barberian and Donald Ricco, and C. A. Trifeletti, chairman of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce Route 186 Committee.

Matt Fasanaro, business manager for the San Mateo Junior College District, also spoke on projected traffic to be generated by the new Skyline Junior College.

S.S.F. Water Rates May Rise 11 Pct.

The California Water Service Company has filed an application with the Public Utilities Commission for permission to increase their rates to South San Francisco residents by 11 per cent.

The proposed increase would raise the rates from 20 cents per 100 cubic feet to 22 cents per 100 cubic feet, according to City Manager Eugene Aiello.

"This would mean an additional cost of about $6 per year for the average water user in South San Francisco," Aiello said.

Mayor Patrick Ahern and members of the council took the proposal "under advisement" Monday, but stated they have no jurisdiction in the matter, "and it is up to the PUC."

Spokesmen for the water company said the rate increase, the first proposed since 1963, is necessary to meet rising operational costs.

The company is having to purchase a greater proportion of its water from San Francisco, and this procedure is more expensive than using water from their own wells, Aiello said.

Kiwanis To Tour Station

The South San Francisco Kiwanis Club will tour the new KRON (Channel 4) television station on Van Ness Avenue this March 29, Friday. Fellow Kiwanian Joe Hale, CABLE TV representative, arranged the dinner and tour.

Corey Tells Bruno Park, Rec Plan

City Council candidate, George R. Corey, this week presented a four point program on Parks and Recreation for San Bruno to a large gathering at the Gary Fambirnis' Pacific Heights home.

To broaden the already excellent recreation climate that exists in San Bruno, Corey lists improvements in the area of cultural arts; critical need for indoor facility in upper north-west area of San Bruno; naming a swimming pool manager within the rec department, and a toddler program.

Point one made by Corey in the area of cultural arts would enjoin programs to result in an atmosphere where such activities as art classes, including oil painting, water colors and sculpture; little theatre, a civic band and chorus would flourish.

"Secondly, the critical need for an indoor facility in the upper northwest area of San Bruno is very apparent," said Corey, "because of wind and fog which exists throughout most of the year. Most outdoor programs now in effect draw a very small number of participants, and the closest basketball court available to young people of the area is at Crestmoor High School."

Corey added that the Crestmoor High gym is quite a distance from the northwest perimeter and could not be reached without using private transportation.

Corey suggested the possibility of a portable multipurpose room to fill the void that exists, at least until better arrangements are made — either a permanent structure or with the new College of San Mateo-Skyline Campus now under construction.

Corey, in stating his third point, said he supports the creation of a new position within the recreation department: that of a swimming pool manager.

"Since the capital improvements committee has already called for the construction of a cover for the swimming pool in San Bruno Park, the necessity for pool management on a firm financial basis is more critical than ever," stressed Corey. He suggested the pool manager would be responsible for such revenues as the pool would derive from rental, also be in charge of developing programs such as the swim lessons, exercise sessions and recreation swim.

Corey indicated he would support as a City Councilman, a Toddler Program similar to the successful Head-Start Program which has received national attention in recent years.

"A Toddler Program could easily be adapted to the recently closed Bel Aire Fire Station," suggested Corey. He cited the success of a similar program held at North Brae School until government funding was withdrawn.

Corey feels certain that funding for his entire suggested Four-Point plan presently exists within the Recreation Department budget, and could be accomplished with little or no change in the present budget.

4 Students Seek PG&E Scholarships

Ten high school seniors from San Francisco and four from northern San Mateo County are in competition for a $4,000 college scholarship to be awarded by Pacific Gas and Electric Company. It is the second year of P. G. & E.'s college scholarship program, establishing 15 scholarships of $1,000 a year for four years.

Ten students will be interviewed by a panel of three distinguished judges for one scholarship the company has assigned to its San Francisco Division. The judging will take place in the conference room of P. G. & E.'s San Francisco Division headquarters at 375 Mission Street.

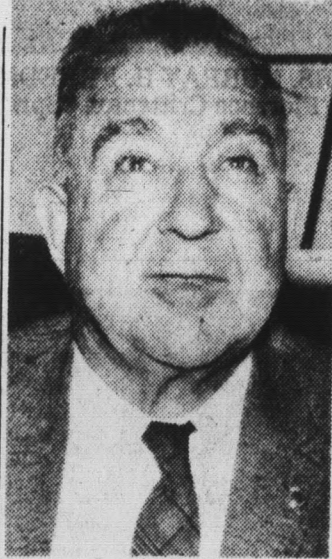

From San Bruno is Karen Burke, Capuchino High, 769 Cypress Avenue.

Two students are in competition with eight other seniors for one of two scholarships awarded to children of company employees throughout Northern and Central California. They are Ellen Kerrigan, Mercy High, Burlingame, 1124 Miller Avenue, South San Francisco and Robert Russell, Capuchino High, 180 Scenic Court, San Bruno. They will be interviewed in San Francisco by Mrs. Marie Fielder, department of education, University of California, Berkeley; Harry Williams, director of public relations, United States Steel Corporation and Ivy Lee, Jr., executive secretary, Northern California Industry-Education Council.

Book Brunan For Arson

A San Bruno man was booked into the County Jail Thursday on an arson charge which police said stemmed from a "family row" last month.

Jailed after a preliminary hearing in North County Municipal Court was Robert E. Lagarrigue, 35, of 2496 Clinton Drive.

Louis Belloni

Belloni Seeks S.S.F. Council Job

Louis Belloni, South San Francisco police chief for more than 35 years, is among the candidates for three seats on the city council in next month's municipal election.

A lifelong resident of the city, Belloni was appointed head of the police department in 1924, and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1960.

Officers For Skyline P-TA Nominated

Skyline School P-TA announced the names of the members nominated for office.

Mrs. Noel Abney, the nominating committee chairman, presented the list, which follows:

President, Mrs. Gilbert Ross; vice-president, Mrs. Nicholas Fesunoff; secretary, Mrs. Larry Levene; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Shabazzian; auditor, Mrs. Ezequiel Urrutia; historian, Mrs. Charles Passanisi.

Guest Speakers for the afternoon meeting were Bruce A. Barichievich, president of the Serramonte Homeowners Association, who spoke on the growth and development in Serramonte.

Charles Vincent, director of the Daly City Park and Recreation Department, told members what is available for recreation in the area.

During his years with the police department, he was instrumental in passage of the city's Civil Service Ordinance, and also supported the retirement system adopted for city employees in 1945.

"My long association with the city of South San Francisco has given me an insight into the needs and problems facing a growing city," he said this week.

"Our city has grown rapidly in population but has not kept pace in recreation facilities, equipment and playgrounds. I want to try to solve this problem," the candidate said.

An Army veteran of World War I, Belloni received the French Medal for participation in the Battle of Verdun, and also four U.S. Victory Medals.

He is a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4103, the Bernard McCaffery American Legion Post, Italian-American Citizens Club, Santo Cristo Society, California Peace Officers' Association, Peninsula Peace Officers' Association, and the Bay Counties Peace Officers' Association.

Belloni resides at 754 Miller Avenue with his wife, Pia.

Neat Robbers Grab Cash In Daly City

Two neatly dressed, clean-shaven men robbed the Westlake branch of American Savings of $1,864 Thursday, after apparently waiting for a Daly City policeman, on routine patrol, to leave the building.

Patrolman Dalls Webber said he had left American Savings at 5 Southgate Avenue, south of the Westlake Shopping Center, at 10:14 a.m.

A short time later, the two suspects — one wielding a small caliber pistol and carrying a blue cloth bank-type bag — entered.

Police were summoned by the manager, William McLaughlin, at 10:20 a.m. a few minutes after the two robbers fled.

Patrolmen Webber and Steven Steen responded first in separate patrol vehicles.

Only one member of the hold-up team did the talking, in normal tones, during the robbery, Webber said.

He was described as a slender-built man, 35 to 38 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches or six feet tall, with receding light brown hair.

He was wearing a tweed-colored sports coat and dark, solid color slacks and a white shirt.

The other suspect, who stood in the background most of the time, was described as between 30 to 35 years of age, of stocky build, light complexioned and wearing brown tortoiseshell-type glasses, a dark Navy-blue suit, with white shirt and black tie.

Upon entering the office, the older suspect with the weapon and blue bag approached Manager McLaughlin and asked him to put "all of the money" in the cloth bag.

The suspect then went to teller Gladys Gustafson and took all of the money she had at her window.

As the armed man went to teller Susan Robare's window the unarmed suspect, who had remained silent and unobtrusive during the first stage of the robbery, handed her a note that read:

"No alarms. Place all money in bag."

The pistol-packing robber then collected the money from her window.

He asked McLaughlin for the money from two closed windows, but the suspect was informed that the manager did not have a key for them.

The robbers warned the American Savings personnel not to follow, and walked out the Park Plaza door.

A witness, police said, saw the pair get into a beige-colored car that had been parked in the alleyway, between Park Plaza and Palmcrest.

They drove west down the alley to Palmcrest and disappeared.

McLaughlin, before phoning police, dashed outside in an attempt to spot the duo before they were out of sight.

Alert Heroine

A courageous San Bruno housewife Friday plucked a four-year-old neighbor from his flaming bed and carried him to safety, after racing across a street in response to screams of the boy's pregnant mother, Fire Marshal Harper Petersen said after firemen had extinguished the blaze.

Petersen said San Bruno firemen rushed to the Kenneth Lucia home at 2461 Maywood Drive shortly after 1:10 p.m.

They found the youngster, Kenneth Louis Lucia, and his mother, Mrs. Sylvia Lucia, had been rescued by a neighbor, Mrs. Barbara Hally of 2440 Maywood.

No one was injured, despite the flame and thick, black smoke that filled the four-year-old's bedroom, Petersen said.

The fire marshal explained that the youngster was asleep when his mother opened his door and found the bed afire.

Thinking the boy, too, was afire, Mrs. Lucia began screaming. Her screams were heard by Mrs. Hally, who lives almost directly across the street.

Mrs. Hally raced across Maywood, darted into the Lucia house and, according to Petersen, braved the thick and black smoke to reach young Kenneth.

She grabbed the youngster, who remained asleep, and carried him outside to safety. Mrs. Hally also led Mrs. Lucia from the house, Petersen noted.

"I still can't figure out how he (the boy) got out without being burned," Petersen said.

Describing Mrs. Hally as a "heroine," Marshal Petersen called her rescue "courageous."

The fire was confined to the bedroom, probably, the fire official declared, because either Mrs. Lucia or Mrs. Hally closed the bedroom door after the youngster was taken from the room.

The foam rubber mattress and box springs on which the youngster was sleeping were destroyed in the fire.

Some smoke damage also was noted. But Petersen said total damage may run about $200, depending on how widespread the smoke damage actually was.

Nab Teen-age Boys at Scene

Two teen-aged boys were arrested by Daly City police as they tried to flee the scene of an alleged burglary at the Jefferson High School on Mission Street Saturday night.

A three-man posse of police rushed to the school after an anonymous tipster informed them someone had broken into the building.

As they stationed themselves outside the school, the two youths ran from the building into the waiting arms of officers Robert Sola, Don Horsley and Fred Holowinski.

Arrested was Thomas Newton, 18, of 467 Bellevue Avenue, Daly City, and his 15-year-old accomplice, also from Daly City.

Cub Scout Kites to Fly Over Pacifica, Saturday

Saturday will be Kite Flying Day in Pacifica, according to Harold Schwalke, camping and activities chairman for the Portola District Boy Scouts of America.

An active day of participation has been planned to commence with a Flag Ceremony at 1 p.m. at the upper parking lot of Oceana High School.

All packs and Webelos Scouts and their leaders have been invited to participate in the event.

Kite Day gives each boy an opportunity to compete against each other and to fly home-made kites, according to Schwalke.

Den mothers have been asked to accompany their dens, and the parents of all boys are welcome.

Several awards will be presented. An attendance award will be based on the amount of participation by boys registered and the percentage present at the time.

Other awards include those for the kite with the most original design, the most unusual shape, the largest, the smallest, the best homemade kite, and the best scout kit kite.

Scout officials have made extensive plans, even to contacting the weatherman to insure "good winds for kite flying" on that date.

Westmoor Folk Dancing Aids Girls

Learning folk dancing and authentic dances can be not only an enjoyable experience; but also a beneficial factor in teaching girls grace and good posture, according to Westmoor girls physical education dance instructor, Miss Barbara Bosio, who has been instructing a popular unit in folk dancing this semester at Westmoor.

Music and rhythm play an important part in learning the proper form of these dances. There are only two folk music record shops in the bay area, Festival Folk Shop, which introduces foreign folk dance lessons, and Pacific Dance Supplies. Records which the students dance by are chosen from either of these stores.

Of the many dances, the Israeli line dances, Miserlow and Dodi Li, and the Israeli couple dance Hava Magilla, were found to be the most popular among the students.

Most basic and frequently used step in the Israeli dances is the Yemanite step.

The jazz band will be led by instructor Dick Crest. Soloists will be Ron Taormina, alto saxophone; Leo Islas, trumpet; Tom Rutley, string bass; Mike Shrieve, drums, and Ken Baker, tenor saxophone. THE CHARLES QUINTANOS (Kristine McArthur)

Newlyweds Honeymoon At Tahoe

Lake Tahoe was the honeymoon site for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Quintano (Kristine A. McArthur) who were married recently at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

Kristine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McArthur, wore a white satin and chantilly lace gown styled along princess lines with a long train attached at the shoulder. Her shoulder length veil was caught by a satin bow and chantilly lace edged with pearls.

Vicki Meltzer was the honor attendant for Kristine in an ice blue and royal blue gown. Denise McArthur was her sister's flower girl. Gary McArthur, brother of the bride, carried the rings.

Gordon H. Meltzer was the best man for Charles, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Quintano. Gary Quintano, brother of the bride, and Rodney McArthur, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

The couple received guests at Laurel Hall after the ceremony. They will make their home in South San Francisco.

The new matron, also the sister of Sandra McArthur, was graduated from Jefferson High School and has been employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in San Francisco. Her husband was graduated from El Camino High School and served three years in the Navy. He is an apprentice butcher and the brother of Vickie and Patricia Quintano.

Jefferson Life Members Feted By Council of P-TA's

The Jefferson Council of P-TA's held a reception Sunday for persons who have received Honorary Life memberships from P-TA units in the Daly City-Colma area over the past years.

More than 100 persons saw exhibits of photos and records recalling history of Jefferson School District.

Mrs. Michael Kerekas, president of the Council, explained that Honorary Life memberships are given persons in recognition of their contributions to the welfare of children and youth.

It is customary for most P-TA units to confer such an honor on one or two individuals each year.

Mrs. Robert McBride, chairman of the reception, was assisted by Mrs. Kerekas, Mrs. Edward Plant, Mrs. William George, Mrs. Derek Whittle, Mrs. Joseph Kaplan, Mrs. William Ross, Mrs. John Pereira, and Mrs. Collins Orton.

Hostesses were Miss Marjorie Tobias, Mrs. Kay Bollendonk, Mrs. Ralph Neuhaus, Mrs. Douglas Adams, Mrs. Conte Gressani, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. Eldon MacRannels, and Mrs. Leland Trobeck.

Snails Have Bad Day At Pet Showing

Anything alive and well was the theme of the Westlake School Playground Pet Fair, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Entries for this Pet Day ranged from great big Irish Setters dogs, King Baime, a rabbit, another king; only this time a turtle named King George, and two little potato bugs named after the infamous "Bonnie and Clyde."

Some youngsters had trouble in preparing for their Pet Day. Little Dana Flowerday decided to enter one of Daly City's most common pets, a snail. Dana left to capture her snail and returned because her father had sprayed their garden, so Dana decided to enter her dog. Elizabeth Messen's snail, Slowpoke, made a fast get-away and for the judging there was only his empty shell.

Spindrift Players To Stage 'Spirit'

Blithe Spirit, being produced by the Pacifica Spindrift Players by special arrangement with Samuel French Inc., will open at Oddstad Center, Pacifica, March 29 and will run through March 30 and the weekend of April 5 and 6.

The plot tells how novelist Charles Condomine invites into his placid country home an eccentric, breezy lady medium in order to learn the language of the occult.

Little does Charles or his lovely second wife, Ruth, dream that the seance staged by the medium will summon back Charles' first wife, now "passed over" for seven years. But the lady from beyond, still handsome, still mischievous, appears — a wraith who torments Charles by reminding him of their days and nights together. Only Charles can see or hear her.

A floating vase, handed to her out of thin air, finally convinces Ruth that Charles is not losing his mind — that his first wife has a ghostly plot in mind: if she can get Charles into an automobile accident and make a ghost of him, life in the spirit world will have more appeal for her.

Mistakes occur, however, and it is Ruth who takes the fatal automobile ride and passes on — only to return with the first wife to plague the utterly bewildered astral bigamist. How Charles manages to extricate himself from these two very blithe spirits makes an hilarious conclusion to this very unusual farce.

RECREATION—The Recreation Department provides one of the most varied programs in the Bay Area—programs for senior citizens, adults, teens and youth.

POLICE AND FIRE—Daly City has one of the most modernly equipped and superbly efficient Police and Fire Departments in the county. Other cities look to Daly City for leadership.

STREETS—The freeway and road system through Daly City is improving each year. A continual resurfacing program, better lighting, more efficient traffic control are examples of how your tax dollar is put to work.

WATER—Daly City is one of the few cities in the Bay Area with its own municipal water system. Our water rates are the lowest in San Mateo County.

AN EXAMPLE—A homeowner in a $20,000 home pays approximately $500 in taxes. Of that the city government receives around $52. The school districts, the Board of Supervisors and the special districts receive the remaining $448.

We have read with interest of your group's success for the past year in securing a $100,000 bond issue for the improvement of the city's water system. As a result of this success, the city's water rates have been reduced by the amount of the bond issue. We are sure that this success will be a great help to you in your efforts to improve the city's water system. Indian Tales, Legends

An Indian legend holds that once an old woman and her grandson wandered among the tribes of the East but none offered them food or a place to rest until they reached the land of the Alligator Tribe.

"You can stay here with us, if you feel like it, but you know that we often suffer from hunger," the chief said.

"We shall share your fortune," the old woman replied. "In return I shall look after all your children, so I should not be entirely useless."

During the days that followed the old woman fed the children a gruel that she called maize. The children found it delightful to taste and nourishing. Of course, everyone loved the old woman for her gift.

One morning she could not get out of bed. She called her grandson and told him that he would find that she had planted some seeds near the camp. He was charged to see that the children look after the seeds and water them and hoe around them for they would grow to provide food for all the Indians.

Then she vanished. When the people went in search of the plant they found it covered with the old woman's hair. They called it maize as the old woman had done. We call it corn.

THIS STORY comes from a large book of American Indian tales and legends that was compiled in Europe by Vladimir Hulpach and illustrated by Miloslav Troup. It was published in London in 1965 by Paul Hamlyn.

The stories and legends of the American Indians are being widely published and retold. Several have been the subject of television programs. Some have been produced as part of motion pictures.

One of the most interesting books is a collection made by Pablita Velarde, an Indian girl who calls herself "one of the fortunate children of my generation who were probably the last to hear stories first hand from Great grandfather of Grandfather. I treasure that memory."

Credit Protection Act

A woman masterminded the crucial vote on the Consumer Credit Protection Act. Because it marks the start of federal government regulation and issuing of rules pertaining to all consumer credit, it will have a broad impact upon all Americans and is one of the most important bills to come up before the 90th Congress.

Congresswoman Lenore Sullivan's bill, H.R. 11601, which the House approved by an overwhelming vote of 382-4, is not in conference to reconcile the differences between the weaker Senate bill and the House-passed bill.

The advertising section of the much stronger House bill provides:

Any credit advertisement extending credit or consumer loans which states the rate of finance charges MUST state the charge as an ANNUAL percentage rate.

Any advertisement which states the amount of an installment payment or the dollar amount of the finance charge must also state:

The cash price or the amount of the loan as applicable;

The down payment, if any;

The number, amount and due date or period of payments scheduled to repay the indebtedness; and

The rate of the finance charge as an annual percentage rate.

Regarding open-end credit plans, no creditor may state in an advertisement any of the specific terms unless he also states the following:

The conditions under which a finance charge may be imposed, including the time period, if any, within which any credit extended may be repaid without incurring a finance charge;

The method of determining the balance upon which a finance charge will be imposed;

The method of determining the amount of the finance charge (including any minimum or fixed amount imposed as a finance charge) and the annual percentage rate;

The conditions under which any other charges may be imposed, and the method by which they will be determined.

The House bill also provides that no creditor may state in an advertisement that a specific credit amount, installment period or down payment can be arranged unless the creditor usually and customarily arranges such amounts, periods and down payments. A multi-page advertisement or catalog is considered a single-page advertisement if it clearly and conspicuously displays a credit terms table showing all of the above information.

The House bill goes far beyond the credit disclosure provisions of the Senate bill passed last July. Unlike the Senate version, the House bill does not exempt department store revolving credit or transactions on which the credit charge is less than $10 from the requirement to disclose annual percentage rates.

Unlike the Senate bill, the House bill applies to the advertising of credit, provides for administrative enforcement, and includes mandatory credit life insurance as part of the finance charge on which the percentage rate must be based.

The House bill applies also to first mortgages — all residential mortgages. Special protection is provided in any transaction which involves a mortgage or other security interest in residential property. It also calls for restrictions on the use of garnishment and would establish a National Commission on Consumer Finance.

No estimate of time is given for conferees to reach agreement or for final Congressional action but it is expected that some type of "truth-in-lending" bill will be passed before Congress adjourns for the presidential convention in August.

Alioto's Tax For Commuters

San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto's proposal to place a one per cent tax on the earnings of commuters in San Francisco is "old hat." It is at least 40 years old and one of the best-aged devices in the San Francisco political bag of tricks.

The question that now arises in Alioto's advocacy of such a tax is whether he is cynically aware of this and is using it to temporarily sugar-coat his proposed gross receipts tax on San Francisco business, or whether he really means to try to impose such a tax and carry it through the inevitable legal battles that will attack it.

If the latter is true Alioto might well take inventory of what his proposal faces.

At the outset he faces disagreement with his own city attorney and the necessity of convincing his own Board of Supervisors who are already grumbling over Alioto's seizure of the San Francisco limelight and upstaging.

Secondly, he faces legal justification of what would plainly be a discriminatory tax and a violation of the cherished American principle that there shall be no taxation without representation.

Third, and possibly most important, he must risk a bitter alienation of San Francisco from the other bay counties from which the commuters come. They could, and undoubtedly would, devise measures of reprisal that might offset the revenue gains and leave San Francisco on a losing end.

Fourth, and we hesitate to point out a fact that is so obvious, Mayor Alioto appears to be under delusions of grandeur with respect to the position of San Francisco in the Bay Area community which it once dominated. It is the only major city of declining population in the area and it is no longer, in its unique city-county status, the most populous of the bay counties — it lags behind Alameda and Santa Clara counties, both of which contribute commuters.

It is still the business leader in the Bay Area, but how long will this last if it deliberately uses its tax structure to harass business and businessmen?

The simple truth is that San Francisco stands to lose more than it can gain by a tax on commuters, most of whom are free to move their business to more hospitable, more convenient, and more economical locations if they choose.

The commuter taxing plan has been closely examined many times over by tax-hungry San Franciscans who, with whatever regret, quickly decided they wanted no part of it.

Dreary 'Desperate Ones'

"Desperate Ones" best describes members of the audience who will feel this way after viewing the plodding, slow-paced and oft-told plight of two refugees which is currently at the Penthouse Theatre, S.F.

To liken it with "Dr. Zhivago" as it was in some of the studio advertising is a gross misrepresentation and an insult to "Zhivago." It tells of two Polish brothers who have escaped from a Siberian prison camp during World War II only to find themselves further hunted by the NKVD soldiers in a small Soviet Union town. Their attempts to escape over the mountains to Afghanistan and the problems they encounter run the gamut from every melodrama and soap opera to the worst of opera plots.

Based largely on the personal experiences of producer Alexander Ramati who also directed, there are interesting historical sidelights to that period of the war, in that part of the country but the disasters and personal sorrows they endure make the film almost morosely unendurable.

Maximilian Schell and Raf Vallone are the two central characters. The former has eye trouble, the latter develops typhus. They're penniless, friendless, starving but manage to get sexually involved with two of the townswomen, one married, the other single. The first affair is with Irene Papas, a Greek actress of remarkable dramatic ability who cheats on her husband with the younger brother while her spouse risks his life in getting contraband medicine for the sick older brother in another town. It doesn't endear either Schell or Papas to one's sympathies.

Theodore Bikel is the ominous police chief who suspects the brothers, without any apparent cause, and hounds them until they flee the town. Naturally one of them gets shot at the very moment he's on free soil.

The story is trite, pat and full of old fashioned hand-wringing obstacles. It's a series of betrayals, sickness, sadism and brutality. The actors are convincing in their respective roles but the direction is so monotonous and heavy-handed, I detected traces of boredom on the performers' faces as well.

Simple Idea Expanded

OUTSTANDING STUDENT NIGHT — On April 19 at 7 p.m. the Daly City-Colma Chamber will present the Outstanding Students from the JUHSD with special awards for their efforts during the past year.

The affair started as a simple idea about ten years ago and has since mushroomed into a much sought after recognition by school students here. The late Congressman J. Arthur Younger said this of the awards: "It is heartwarming to see such a tribute paid to deserving young men and women representing a great many children who will guide our industry, our business and our nation in future years."

Elio Fontana, chairman of the event, said the chamber looks with great pride on the future citizens and leaders of the nation. "These are truly talented, hard-working youth who have applied themselves in achieving high academic standards — for some it is easy, for others not so easy."

All we can add to these glowing statements is our modest amen. When we look back at our own high school trials, we can understand just how hard these kids work at being a little better than the next. It's hard enough to finish school, but to come out on top . . . ? Well, that's a real feat. Congratulations!

FLAT OF OUR SWORD to those three out-of-town campaign workers caught tearing down opposition signs in the Southern Hills area the other p.m. and putting up their own candidate's posters. They were spotted on private property and the irate owner told police the trio is lucky they weren't all shot — what with all the burglaries around town these days. We're not going to spill the candidate's name, only let him know that The Shadow Knows. (Psst . . . it was his car the campaign workers were driving).

AND SPEAKING OF CANDIDATES, Incumbent Treasurer Joe Lewkowicz seen putting up signs all over town, was asked why, since as no one else is running against him? Joe: Well, you see I spent all this money on them when I thought . . .

DELEGATES FROM 24 local AFL-CIO unions met last week in San Mateo and decided to endorse these candidates in the North County: (San Bruno) George R. Corey and James A. Hensel Jr. for council; William G. Schroeder for treasurer; (Daly City) incumbents Tony Giammona and Frank Pacelli for council; Joe Lewkowicz for treasurer; (South San Francisco) incumbent Frank Bertucelli, James P. Claar and George P. Coulter for council. Nothing from Brisbane or Pacifica.

FLASHY FLASH — Rumors stronger than Assemblyman Leo Ryan may get a Health, Welfare and Education post. If this is true (and he does get the job) wonder who will be appointed by Republican Governor Reagan to replace him in the Twenty-seventh District? Other rumors say MDB. How 'bout that?

AND SO DEAR FRIENDS after we write that Daly City's weather is lousy and ask why are they resurfacing Hillside Boulevard at this time, the sun comes out and glows hotly down on our balding head. Nuts! We gotta apologize again.

JUST RECEIVED A RELEASE from the Daly City Garden Club — signed by President John K. FERN. No . . . we DON'T make these things up.

AND JUST TO PROVE our contacts are Bay Area-wide, comes word from Tiburon that good old Don C. Silverthorne has written a book on his life "and the truth about the closing of the San Francisco National Bank. . . ." He's now looking for a publisher. Don't everybody rush.

THAT WAS A NICE AFFAIR THE OTHER night when the city honored 37 employees for long service. The buffet was great. Kudos from us to Continental Caterers of Menlo Park who did a fine job serving the more than 250 persons attending.

SSF POLICE CHIEF John Fabbri will be the emcee at the big symposium on law enforcement April 3 in Oakland. The veteran COP (Chief of Police) was an advisor to the President's Crime Commission and spent several weeks last year looking over New York City's finest — and finding out just why they AREN'T the finest.

PUBLIC FORUM

'Hear the Student'

Editor, The Post:

As a Freshman student of Westmoor High, I feel it is my duty to at least say something about our next year's school system and about the conclusions the Board has come to.

In a few of my classes we have discussed the meeting held on the evening of March 11, 1968, and some of our ideas and thoughts, in my opinion were very good. We are concerned.

As we discussed this situation, I had found out that someone had said that we students don't pay taxes, nor do we vote, and we are all immature, so we don't have any say about a situation which is going to affect the students, and no one else. Talking about immaturity I heard how rude the adults at this meeting were. Yes, it's true we don't pay taxes. It's not our obligation. The state doesn't give 2,400 jobs in order to be able to pay them. Our parents support us so they pay them. Why don't we vote? Because the state says no one under 21 can vote. This is not our fault. Are we all immature? No, this can't be proven. There are those who are trustworthy. These reasons given saying we have no say is unfair. An overcrowded school is going to affect us not him.

Does plan "A" help our overcrowded campus? Is it helping the student and their studies? Does it ease the teachers' burden of overcrowded classes? No! From the beginning I thought all of this arguing was being done so that Westmoor wouldn't have an overload of students next year, and for the students' classes. But as it looks "A" is not going to solve anything but the satisfaction of the Board. If the teachers or students don't have a say in this, what was the use of all these meetings?

IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS there are supposedly 28 students per class. The majority of my classes and other students classes have 30 or more. Do the Board and the parents realize with over 30 students in a class it is hard to get the proper help from the teacher. While we were discussing this, in my math class, some good points were brought up. Today modern math is difficult for the average student. We ask for help from our parents, but they are not familiar with modern math. So at school we ask our teacher; 29 students or more wanting help! What's the teacher going to do? What's going to happen to us? Where are we going to get help? Especially next year.

Also by overcrowding the school, it's not my worry, but we will spend so much money on more lockers, desks, classrooms and better lunch facilities.

Today school is hard. Some can take it and some can't. If plan "C" comes in effect it will ease the strain on the student and also on the faculty. I admit and I see some reasons for not agreeing for plan "C", but it gives a student more time for studying, and also takes the burden off the faculty.

I HOPE I DON'T SOUND disrespectful for I do respect my elders but by disregarding our so-called petitions and by people saying we have no say on a matter which affects us, in my opinion, is wrong and unfair. No matter how old we are we should be heard. That's the trouble today. No one ever listens to any one else. They do just as they please. It's about time the Board and parents change their feeling towards us. We may not pay taxes, not vote, but we are the students and we are concerned.

I'm pretty sure the majority of students respect and appreciate what the Board and faculty has done to better the school, but if you were in our position wouldn't you agree with us? Going through crowded classes, halls, and standing in long lines for lunch is miserable. It is an everyday rat race.

We ask you to try to arrange a meeting without class representatives and with the Board so we may express our feelings for what is going to happen to us. Even if this does not work at least we can't say "We Didn't Try." This will be appreciated.

I hope I'm not out of line but the way some parents have been acting it seems they are thinking only of themselves and not about the education of their sons and daughters, and their conveniences. Who is going to school the student or the parent.

GARY NIDUAZA

Daly City

P.S. We would like the Board to realize we are the students, we are going to school. So let us have our say. I think we can take the responsibility of making the right decision.

Beating a Primrose Path to Colma

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Grow a better primrose and the world will beat a primrose path to your nursery.

And while that statement may be a little hammy and certainly not original, it is an idea fostered by two North County brothers—Ray and August Masini—for the past 12 years at their Abbey Homestead Nursery in Colma.

Shakespeare mentioned the colorful five-lobed flower in "Hamlet" when he called the path of pleasure the "primrose path," coining a phrase that has lasted through the years.

From a simple beginning on the slopes of San Bruno Mountain, the Masini brothers have built their primrose gardens into the largest single supplier of this sturdy plant in the world. More than a million plants were distributed to wholesalers alone last year.

With some 20 acres devoted solely to the English hybrid primrose and a large greenhouse for hand-pollinating and planting seeds, the nursery has already "invented" five completely new colors, including salmon, rosy pink, light pink, and various shades of red.

Exactly how the new colors are born is a closely guarded secret and even the seeds are not sold to outsiders. The nursery confines its sales to potted primrose plants.

"If we sold our seeds to everyone, they would be able to duplicate our colors and we would be out of business," Ray Masini explained.

Orders for the flower, which blooms throughout the year in most areas, pour in from as far away as Geneva, N.Y., and Hawaii, but primary markets for the primrose are between Seattle and Los Angeles and as far east as Reno, Nev.

The primrose grows best in

ON WAY TO MARKET — Ray Masini, owner of Abbey Nursery, personally inspects each potted primrose plant before distributing it to wholesale markets throughout the state. Last year, the nursery sold more than a million plants and this figure is expected to increase substantially in 1968 as more persons "discover" the multi-colored plants, Masini predicted.

well-drained sandy soil. Weather determines what kind of a crop and how often the plant will produce blooms throughout the year.

"San Francisco area is the best for primroses," according to Ray. "The weather is cool and the soil sandy. Blooms are produced throughout the year—from September through June."

In July and August the summer sun holds back the blossoms, but in September they spring forth again, Ray Masini explained.

A single primrose will produce blooms for about five years with proper care. After three years the plant can be dug up and the roots split, thus producing more plants.

In this age of modern mechanization why do the brothers continue to hand-pollinate?

"We tried bees, but they are more trouble than they are worth. For one thing, with bees you can't control the colors and you can't come up with any original colors," Ray said.

From pollinating, to seed planting, to field and to pots en route to the market, the Masini brothers continue to do everything by hand.

"Believe it or not, we want quality not quantity in our primroses... that's why we do everything by hand," Ray said.

Chamber To Salute U.S. Vietnam Vets

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an Armed Forces Day Dinner Thursday, May 16, honoring members of the armed forces of the U.S.

Chairman Fred Martin has announced that Congressman Paul McCloskey has accepted the invitation to be the featured speaker and will fly in from Washington on that day for the occasion.

Vietnam veterans from the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard will be honored guests.

Plans for other celebrations during the day are planned by the committee, according to Martin. Assisting him are Chamber Directors Vincent Murphy, Kevin McDonald and James Grealish.

Teen-agers Arrested For Marijuana

Three teen-age boys were arrested on marijuana charges at the Benjamin Franklin School in Broadmoor Friday night, Daly City police reported.

Two patrolling officers reportedly spotted the youths passing around a marijuana "joint" on the lawn in front of the school about 11 p.m.

They were turned over to Broadmoor police authorities.

Miracle Coating Eliminates House Painting

American United Chemical Company has developed a remarkable product for exterior walls that virtually eliminates outside painting for many years to come and is factory guaranteed for 15 years. This product called GUARD-COTE, combines the long-lasting properties of fiberglass, asbestos, mica and perlite to make a wall surface that resists all climate extremes.

Throughout the Country

School boards have found textured coatings so economical and lasting over the past several years that they are now specifying this type of material for school buildings.

Many thousands of textured coating applications have been made on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, and these buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The United States Government and large corporations, such as Shell Oil Company, Pacific Telephone Company, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company, are using textured coatings. This remarkable exterior surfacing provides waterproofing, insulation, and beauty, far outlasting any ordinary paint.

GUARD-COTE comes in 12 beautiful decorator colors—and does not change the structural lines of the building. Actually it adds beauty to any home or structure and increases its value.

Water-proofs, Insulates, Fire Retardant

GUARD-COTE has the additional advantages of waterproofing and through the use of Silicones, a modern day scientific advance, a water repellent "blanket" envelops the entire building so that no moisture can penetrate and damage the interior of the home. Through the use of fiberglass and perlite, highly efficient insulating material, the building becomes cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter.

Factory Guaranteed

Every GUARD-COTE job is registered and factory guaranteed for 15 full years material replacement against chipping, flaking or peeling. It fuses itself to the wall surface to a thickness 15 to 20 times that of normal paint.

No Obligation

Applications of GUARD-COTE are being made in this area by MORSE BROTHERS, exclusive applicators of this remarkable product for Northern California. Free information on how easily you may have GUARD-COTE applied at low bank terms with no down payment may be obtained by calling collect PLaza 6-1341 (24-hour service) or by mailing coupon below.

No Security At S.B. Jail

A city agency reported city and county jails in San Francisco are so insecure the inmates could take over within 20 minutes.

The holding jail in the Hall of Justice and the main county jail near San Bruno, are also inadequate in food, security, sanitation, recreation, rehabilitation, custody jobs and counseling, the report said.

The Hall of Justice jail is managed by city police while the San Bruno facility is under the jurisdiction of Sheriff Matthew Carberry.

The 95-page report on the jails was made by the city's Advisory Committee for Adult Detention.

California Scholarship Unit at Westmoor Elects

Newly elected to govern Westmoor's California Scholarship Federation are three top honor students, seniors Larry Wolff and Gilda Herbert and junior Pat Guillen.

Conducting the meetings, checking attendance, and planning the spring activities will be Larry Wolff's work as CSF president. Having been in this top honor society for seven semesters, Larry attributes his average to "conscientious study." Larry, who served as judge in student court last semester, is a member of both the varsity football and track teams.

Working with Larry will be his assistant, Gilda Herbert, vice president of CSF. Like Larry, Gilda does not devote all of her time to studying. She has been a cheerleader since her sophomore year. Both Larry and Gilda have been accepted for admission to U.C. Berkeley for the Fall.

Holding the combined office of secretary-treasurer is the youngest of this trio of officers, Pat Guillen. She will take minutes for CSF meetings and handle correspondence. Pat has been secretary of her junior class, and is a member of the Spanish and Chess clubs.

Larry, Gilda, and Pat are now planning the CSF field trip, a picnic to Jack London Park in Sonoma, Glen Ellen. They also will tour Captain Vailejo's house, which is an historical landmark.

Accompanying the group will be CSF advisers, Miss Jennie Gates and John Milton.

Broadmoor Presbyterian Women Schedule Meeting

The United Presbyterian Women of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church will meet at a luncheon at noon April 2 at the church, 377 Eighty-seventh Street, Daly City.

Following the luncheon, Marie Cardwell, namesake of one of the four UPW Circle groups, will speak.

Her subject will deal with the experiences of a Christian woman living in a Muslim community. She and her husband, the Rev. T. Lawrence Cardwell, returned to the United States from Lebanon in June of 1967 where they have been working for the Commission on Ecumenical Missions and Relations for the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Before going to Lebanon in 1957, Mrs. Cardwell taught home economics in Morgan Hill.

In Lebanon she taught at a girls' school in Sidon. She met Reverend Cardwell while there and they were married in 1958.

They both plan on returning to Lebanon in July.

Mrs. James Hamilton is president of the UPW.

First Western Bank would like to lend you enough money to add on to your home.

$3,000 could do plenty. And with eight years to repay, and payments as low as $45 a month, you can probably afford it.

You wouldn't exactly be throwing your money away, either. Because adding on to your house makes it worth that much more when you sell it.

There's no complicated refinancing, no red tape, no escrow fees, or that sort of thing. We treat it as a simple business deal, like a car loan.

If you really feel ambitious, we can lend up to $7500 for home improvement. All we charge is $5.50 per $100 per year.

DID YOU KNOW WE ARE ALSO A "GIFT SHOP"?

In recent years more and more people have come to realize that almost every item for sale in a furniture store makes a most wonderful, practical and lasting gift for someone on any occasion the year round.

It is hardly necessary to point out the advisability of giving a gift which will be needed and which will be used and enjoyed every day of the year. A gift of something for the home can be one of the best things you could ever give.

This gift could be as small and as inexpensive as a wall or table accessory or as big as a sofa, dinette suite, a fine mattress and box spring, end table, lamp, or floor covering, to name just a few.

Of course it is necessary to ascertain the actual needs and decorative scheme of such a gift but this little effort will be worthwhile both to the giver and the receiver. If you hesitate to buy a gift for someone else's home, simply pay us a visit and purchase a gift certificate for any amount.

Remember, the greatest gifts of all are gifts for the home.

We can make excellent suggestions and ideas and help you pick out the "right" thing. We invite you to come and talk it over with us. There's no obligation. We'll look forward to seeing you.

Inmate Lowers Himself From Cell with Blanket

A 24-year-old inmate knotted several blankets together and lowered himself from the fifth floor of the San Francisco county jail in San Bruno shortly after midnight Monday.

A San Bruno police department spokesman said the escapee, Joseph Crum of San Francisco, might be involved in the burglary of the Crest L&M Cleaners at 118 Skycrest in San Bruno sometime between 1 and 2:56 a.m.

Police in San Bruno said it was just about midnight when Crum, serving a sentence of two to six months on two counts of petty theft, lowered himself down the blankets and fled the jail.

Shortly before 3 a.m., a private San Bruno patrolman spotted the dry-cleaning firm's glass door broken.

He called San Bruno police, who found a rock had been used to smash in the glass of the door.

A cash box, screwed to a counter top, was yanked loose and taken.

COW PALACE directors and a group of volunteer businessmen have teamed up to promote the sale of 4-H Club and F.F.A. beef, lambs and hogs at the Grand National Junior Livestock Auctions, April 9 and 10 at the Cow Palace. State Aid For Schools Is Slashed

By FRANK LAPIERRE

School administrators reeled last week as a result of a State Department of Finance letter informing them the 1967 session of the legislature had made a $70 million error in its estimates on costs of Assembly Bill 272.

The letter, sent out by newly-appointed Finance Director Caspar Weinberger, instructed the state's 1,200 school districts — both elementary and high school — that they could expect some 6.7 per cent less aid from the state in the coming year.

This would, in effect, mean no pay raises for teachers or other school personnel, along with "holding the line" on current school instructional programs.

Weinberger pointed out the actual costs may run as high as $82 million in general fund monies for the fiscal year 1968-69.

School authorities predicted the situation will worsen unless immediate action is taken by the governor to correct the imbalance.

the money," Greenwood explained.

On the other hand, if the district proceeded with its expanded programs, plus cost-of-living raises for personnel, it would require an additional 25 cent hike in the present tax rate for the JESD alone, Trustee Frank Monte pointed out.

(As an example, other districts in the program with higher state aid appropriations would require an even higher increase in the tax rate to make up the difference.)

However, the JESD is already at its ceiling of $3 per $100 of assessed valuation and cannot go higher, therefore the administration will be required to adjust to the proposed 6.7 per cent next year.

Greenwood said the only method of saving the school programs would be to divert some $155 million in proposed state sales tax monies to the school aid fund. The sales tax revenues were part of the AB 272, which imposes an increase of one-half cent in the sales tax (effective July 1, 1968) to be used for property tax relief.

The letter warned school districts against entering into any "firm commitments for the coming school year" and said the districts should recognize the fact that the reduction would be forthcoming.

Nudism on Coastside Beaches Growing, Supervisors Are Told

THE POST
Wednesday, March 27, 1968

Nudity on San Mateo County beaches — not just the so-called "free beach" near San Gregorio but public beaches as well — is becoming more commonplace, the County Board of Supervisors was told.

A visiting couple from San Ramon complained to the board about conditions at the state beach at San Gregorio where, they said, they were shocked Sunday before last by several nude specimens. "Mentally disturbed creeps," they called them.

And Board Member Jean Fassler of Pacifica said it is not unusual for surfers to strip down and change clothes on the public beaches in her city "wherever they happen to stop."

"I guess old-fashioned modesty is gone," she lamented.

In a letter to the board, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Scheer of San Ramon said they were at the state beach near San Gregorio March 10 with their three young sons when "suddenly we were confronted by the disgusting sight of a man walking by, stark naked."

"He was soon followed by a topless girl with a man naked from the waist down. Fortunately, our children did not notice, and we gathered up our belongings and started to leave. Another such creep standing in front of the cliff casually took his pants off and walked by us nude."

"Some means should be available to prevent a few troublemakers from spoiling the beach for everyone else," Mr. and Mrs. Scheer concluded.

Dist. Atty. Keith C. Sorenson told the board that the state has adequate regulations against nudity on public beaches. The board asked him to suggest to the State Division of Beaches and Parks that it reinforce its beach patrols. Sorenson was also asked to pass on the board's concern to Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore.

It is a different situation at the "free beach" north of the public beach where for several years nudists have occupied a sheltered strand lying between privately owned land and the ocean, Sorenson explained. State law, which has pre-empted the field to the exclusion of local ordinances, requires proof that suspects were "wilfully lewd" before charges can be sustained," he said.

"The problem is not with the nudists," Supervisor Robert St. Clair commented. "They have cults and believe in sun worshipping and just want to be left alone. It's the creeps and the hippies that cause the problems."

'Everything Went Wrong'
—Cake Recipe Repeated

Good morning, good cooks. Last week's column gave me Excedrin headache number 13. It seems everything that could go wrong with it, did. We received many calls and questions about the typographical errors and the best way to correct them is to repeat the recipes. So here goes, gals.

BEATRICE'S PINK ICE BOX CAKE

- 1 cup hot water
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- Grated rind of two lemons
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 pkg. raspberry flavored gelatin
- 1 can evaporated milk, large size
- 1 small flat tin crushed pineapple, drained
- 1 large package vanilla wafers,
- 1/2 pt. whipping cream

Dissolve the raspberry gelatin in the one cup hot water, add the one-fourth cup lemon juice, grated lemon rinds and one-half cup sugar, mix well. Place in refrigerator and chill until mixture just starts to set.

At the same time pour the one large can of evaporated milk into a freezer tray and let it chill until fine ice crystals begin to form around edges. Remove from tray and whip.

When the gelatin mixture starts to set, whip until thick and frothy and combine with the whipped milk. Return to refrigerator to chill. At this time, whip the half-pint of whipping cream.

Crumble the vanilla wafers. A nice non-messy way to do this is to place them in a plastic bag and roll with a rolling pin. Or if you are fortunate enough to have a blender, use it.

Grease the bottom of a 10-inch spring-form pan and put half the wafers on the bottom of the pan. Add one-half the gelatin mixture and then the rest of the crumbs, the layer of whipped cream, the well drained crushed pineapple and top with the rest of the gelatin mixture.

Let this set in your refrigerator overnight. If you wish, you may frost the sides of the cake with an additional half-pint whipped cream.

THIS CAKE won a prize in the convenience mix category at Pillsbury. It is delicious and the added attraction of a meringue frosting gives it eye appeal as well.

LEMON MERINGUE ANGEL CAKE

- 1 pkg. Angel Cake Mix
- 1 1/4 cups water
- 1 teaspoon lemon extract
- 6 drops yellow food coloring
- 5 egg whites
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- two-thirds cup sugar
- 1 package Lemon Sauce mix
- Heat oven to 350 degrees.

Prepare the cake mix as directed on package, adding the one teaspoon lemon extract and the six drops of food coloring to the one and one-fourth cups water before adding to the cake mix. Bake as directed.

In small mixer bowl, beat the five egg whites and one-half teaspoon cream of tartar at highest speed until foamy. Very slowly add the two-thirds cup sugar, beating meringue continuously until stiff peaks form.

Placed baked cake on oven-proof plate or cookie sheet. Frost the cooled cake with meringue. Bake at 425-degrees for 4 to 5 minutes, until meringue is golden. Chill at least one hour before serving.

Prepare the lemon sauce as directed on package. Serve over slices of cake.

ENCHILADA CASSEROLE

- 1 med. onion
- 2 Tbsp. oil
- 2 lbs. ground beef
- 1 can (12 oz.) corn with pimiento and green pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon each, rosemary, oregano and marjoram
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cans (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1 can (10 oz.) enchilada sauce
- 12 tortillas
- 1/2 lb. sharp cheddar cheese, sliced

Chop the onion and saute it in the two tablespoons oil. Add the two pounds ground beef and brown. Add the one can corn and the one-fourth teaspoon each rosemary, oregano and marjoram.

Combine the two cans of tomato sauce with the one can enchilada sauce; pour half of this mixture over the meat, simmer for five minutes.

In the bottom of a shallow casserole (2-quart) arrange 6 tortillas. Pour meat mixture over the top and arrange half of cheese over meat. Cover with remaining tortillas and remaining cheese. Pour rest of sauce over all.

Cover and bake in moderate oven (350-degrees) from 15 to 20 minutes. Or until the casserole is hot and bubbly. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

SINCE WE ARE THINKING about enchiladas, I'd like to include this easy to mix and fix, and most delicious dish. My friend Mrs. Noel Collin who lives at 1674 32nd. Avenue in San Francisco gave me this recipe and it has been a favorite of mine for years.

MOCK ENCHILADA PIE

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 2 med. onions, chopped
- 1 Tbsp. chili powder
- 3/4 cup water
- 2 cans tomato sauce (8 oz.)
- 1 can minced olives, small
- 1 can whole kernel corn, No. 303
- 1 can kidney beans, No. 303
- 1 can mushrooms, small
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
- 1 large package corn chips

Saute the two onions in oil, add the one lb. ground beef and brown. Add the one tablespoon chili powder to the three-fourths cup water and mix well, pour into the meat. Next add the two cans tomato sauce, the minced olives, corn, kidney beans and mushrooms to the meat mixture and mix well. Simmer for 15 minutes. Line a lightly greased casserole with the corn chips. Pour in part of the meat mixture and make alternate layers of chips and meat. Top with 1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese. Bake in 375-degree oven about 20 minutes.

New Jeff Concept Winning Support

By WILL THOMAS

Public reaction to the "new" concept of modular-flexible scheduling, which will make its debut next year in the Jefferson High School District, has been generally "highly enthusiastic," according to Louis Martin, a Jefferson official.

Martin serves in a dual position, as director of special services and principal-elect of Serramonte High School.

Martin has worked closely with Dr. Robert Watt, Oceana (Pacific) principal, on this program — new to the Jefferson district, but which has gained popularity nation wide over the past six years.

Some San Mateo School District schools have converted to modular scheduling already.

The Jefferson district is having its program computerized through Stanford University, which this year alone is working on 135 others, according to Martin.

Martin, as principal-elect of Serramonte — the controversial complex to be built in the southern portion of the district — is deeply involved in modular scheduling and its curriculum complexities because Serramonte was especially designed under Martin's watchful eyes for modular scheduled classes.

Dr. Watt, of course, is concerned because his Oceana High School will pioneer the Jefferson district's entry into the modular scheduling concept.

Watt's instructional staff made the decision to move into modular-flexible scheduling, with an overwhelming affirmative vote last November.

Since then, there has been a flurry of enthusiastic activity on the part of the teaching staff and administrators.

The teachers have the primary role, not only in the switchover, but in actually conducting the program.

Martin says the Oceana program will differ from Serramonte's in practice, but not in overall format. Basically, they'll be the same.

Martin explains that every school with modular scheduling will have some variations — depending upon the philosophies of the administrators and the makeup of the student body and the teaching staff.

When Serramonte opens in 1969 with the new educational concept, Martin will be in a position somewhat reverse of that of principals of "standard" schools, which have a principal with assistant principals for instruction, guidance and finance.

At Serramonte, Principal Martin's main task will be to guide curriculum planning, teacher supervision and teacher planning, tasks, he notes, normally delegated to the assistant principal for instruction.

Both Watt and Martin note that modular scheduling will bring expanded team teaching, a new method of class instruction involving up to five teachers "operating in a team effort."

Under the "usual" format, they say, a large group of pupils — 90 or more students — will meet at one time, with one of the five teacher team members lecturing. The other teachers will be in the audience, working with individual students who have questions or problems during the lecture.

Then, later in the day — or week — the 90-plus group of pupils will be divided into smaller units of 16 to 18 pupils, each class handled by members of the teaching team, as a follow-up to the large-group lecture.

More specifically, the scheduling for an English class might be arranged like this:

In a week's time, two large group lectures and three small group meetings will be scheduled.

In homemaking, under modular scheduling, one large group lecture of two modules (40 minutes) might precede two laboratory sessions of three or four modules (60 or 80 minutes) each for 20 or 25 students.

Or — says Martin — consider the possibilities for a shorthand skills course in the business education department:

One large group session of three modules (60 minutes), followed by four small group sessions of two modules (40 minutes) each.

This particular bit of scheduling would allow class meetings daily, though time schedules would vary, depending on the course and the teacher.

At Oceana, Dr. Watt points out, teachers and department heads were allowed to determine how often and for how many modules their classes should be offered.

Both Watt and Martin are pleased over the opportunity to include a variety of heretofore unoffered courses in a week's schedule.

Specialized courses, such as photography, could be fit into an individual student's time, utilizing one or more modules of what has been called "independent student study" time.

The "independent study" module is one of the key features of the new program. Each student and each teacher will have several modules daily of independent study.

It puts the burden of study and so-called "free-time" accomplishment — time utilization — on the shoulders of the student.

The administrators know there will be some students unable to make the "best use" of this time; but they say it's impossible to know in advance who these youngsters will be.

Schedule changes will be made to fit the individual student's needs after those who are having difficulty in adjusting are determined.

District trustees, for whom Martin, Watt and other administrators gave a progress report on modular scheduling, appeared to share the enthusiasm. The Oceana and Serramonte educators have for the concept.

Martin said Thursday that a recent joint meeting with three Daly City P-TA units, the response was "highly enthusiastic."

Similarly, he said, "We were really enthused over the reception we (Dr. Watt and District Supt. Edward Morgan were present also) got."

The student reaction, Martin said, is that "they're looking forward to a new educational program that entirely offers something different to them."

He added that the "independent study" time, "which also always comes out in discussions, is one thing 'that intrigues them.'"

"They're looking forward," Martin said, to see how they're going to spend it."

At the teacher level, Martin disclosed "a good number of older teachers have been quicker to move" into the new concept.

The younger teacher is "more cautious," because he doesn't know what to expect, "though he readily accepts it," Martin said.

Westmoor Poetry Set

Three poets, Barbara Jean of Daly City, Norma Lashley of San Bruno, and Margaret O. Richardson of Daly City, received awards recently for their poems by the literary magazines.

All three poets take the Writers' Course given at Westmoor Adult School in Daly City.

Margaret O. Richardson is moderator of The Daly City Creative Writers Group, of which the other two award winners are members. Writers interested in any and all fields of writing are invited to join them. There are no fees or dues, and the meetings are informal.

If there are peanut butter lovers in your house, you can bet they'll come running with cheers for this delicious peanut butter 'n' jelly pie that will perfectly satisfy almost any palate. It's an old-fashioned pie with a new touch, that will conjure up happy memories for the kids and dad alike. This golden brown pie has all the flavor of creamy, rich peanut butter, yet is fairly mild due to the addition of the apple-raspberry jelly that is swirled in the same jar. With the combination of the flaky crust, this pie will make one of the most sought-after dessert favorites to be found anywhere. It has all the flavor of spring and the delicious dazle of summer. The pie isn't hard to make either. In fact, it whips up in a jiffy and takes only 45 minutes to bake. It's guaranteed to make you the star mother in the block, not only in the eyes of the youngsters, but also in the eyes of your peanut-butter loving husband.

PEANUT BUTTER 'N' JELLY PIE
Filling:
1 cup light or dark corn syrup
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup Peanut Butter 'N' Jelly or mixed peanut butter and jelly.
Blend filling ingredients. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in hot (400 degree) oven for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degree) oven and bake pie 30 to 35 minutes longer. (Filling should appear slightly less set in center than around edge.)
Shell (9-inch):
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water
Mix flour and salt. Cut in shortening with two knives until mixture resembles coarse oatmeal. Sprinkle water over mixture and mix well. Press dough firmly into ball with hands. Pastry should be moist enough to hold together, not sticky.
Place ball of dough on lightly floured surface. Flour rolling pin lightly. Place on center of dough. Roll dough from center to edge with quick, light strokes to a 12-inch circle. Fold pastry in half; lift carefully into 9-inch pie plate. Unfold. Fit gently into contours of plate. Do not stretch pastry. Trim ½-inch beyond rim of pan. Fold under and flute. Bake as recipe directs.

This Is the Season for the Traditional Breads of the Easter Holiday

In springtime, you're likely to find raisins and other goodies showing up in foods of many shapes and wonderful breads. You'll find bake shop windows filled with picturesque Russian Kulich, braided Italian and Swiss Easter Egg Breads and whimsical Polish Babka.

Along with them will be the most famous of all Eastertide breads — Hot Cross Buns. Made from a spicy raisin dough and decorated with a custard or frosting cross on top, these are readily available in food stores as well as specialty bake shops. Homemade loaves of oatmeal raisin bread as shown here displayed with eggs in an Easter basket are a delightful quick bread. Raisin ribbons run through the individual loaves baked in French pans with fluted ends although any pan will do.

A grand and glorious raisin pie is a real tempter. It's high mocha chiffon filling is tastefully dotted with California raisins. Should your sweet tooth favor cookies, you'll be sure to like the drop cookies with cornflakes, coconut and raisins to make them nice and chewy and perfect for a springtime menu.

Golden Pineapple-Like Nuggets of Sunshine—Ideal for Springtime Menus

Golden canned pineapple with its refreshing taste is ideal in springtime menus. Specifically, pineapple comes as chunks, slices or tidbits as well as crushed. Canned pineapple juice is unsweetened and it too is handy for a perky drink or to use in molded salads and special desserts.

It is canned crushed pineapple—little nuggets of tropical sunshine—that sparkles in this recipe trio. The two-toned salad, looking very much like a spring bonnet has a golden crown made of pineapple mold in lively orange gelatin. Beneath it is an amethyst layer of cranberry sauce and California seedless raisins. Decorate with fake flowers for the finishing touch.

Show off your patisserie talents with these delectable French tarts. Their delightful walnut shells are a pleasing contrast to the creamy chocolate pineapple filling. Be sure to follow the directions for shaping the shells so they can be easily removed from the muffin pans.

Then for a dessert which will really make a hit with the men, there is a marvelous cheese-cake. The bright crushed pineapple glaze topping sets off the creamy filling to perfection.

PINEAPPLE SPRING BONNET SALAD

Bits of sweet crushed pineapple make a sunny crown for this two-toned molded salad.

1 1/2 cups boiling water

1 (8 1/2-ounce) can crushed pineapple

2 tablespoons lemon juice

1/2 cup finely chopped celery

Today at 11 o'clock Longs opens its huge San Mateo Super Drug Store, its 39th store opening over a long period of serving the public successfully. We, at Longs, proudly invite you to visit our newest, latest, and best store. There will be no urging to buy, there never is at Longs. Just look around leisurely and share with us the accomplishment of a store embodying the very latest ideas to bring you better service, better values, better quality. Please look around and, give us your comments. Longs learns from its customers. The Longs drug-store-idea had its beginning stirrings during my brothers and my college days at U.C. Berkeley. After our graduation, our first store was opened in Oakland in 1938. Since that time, just 30 years ago, Longs has opened stores from Alameda to Santa Rosa, Santa Cruz to Fresno, Los Angeles to San Diego, and Honolulu. Each store naturally has been an improvement over the last and this one in San Mateo represents the total previous experience of 38 stores and 30 years of drug merchandising.

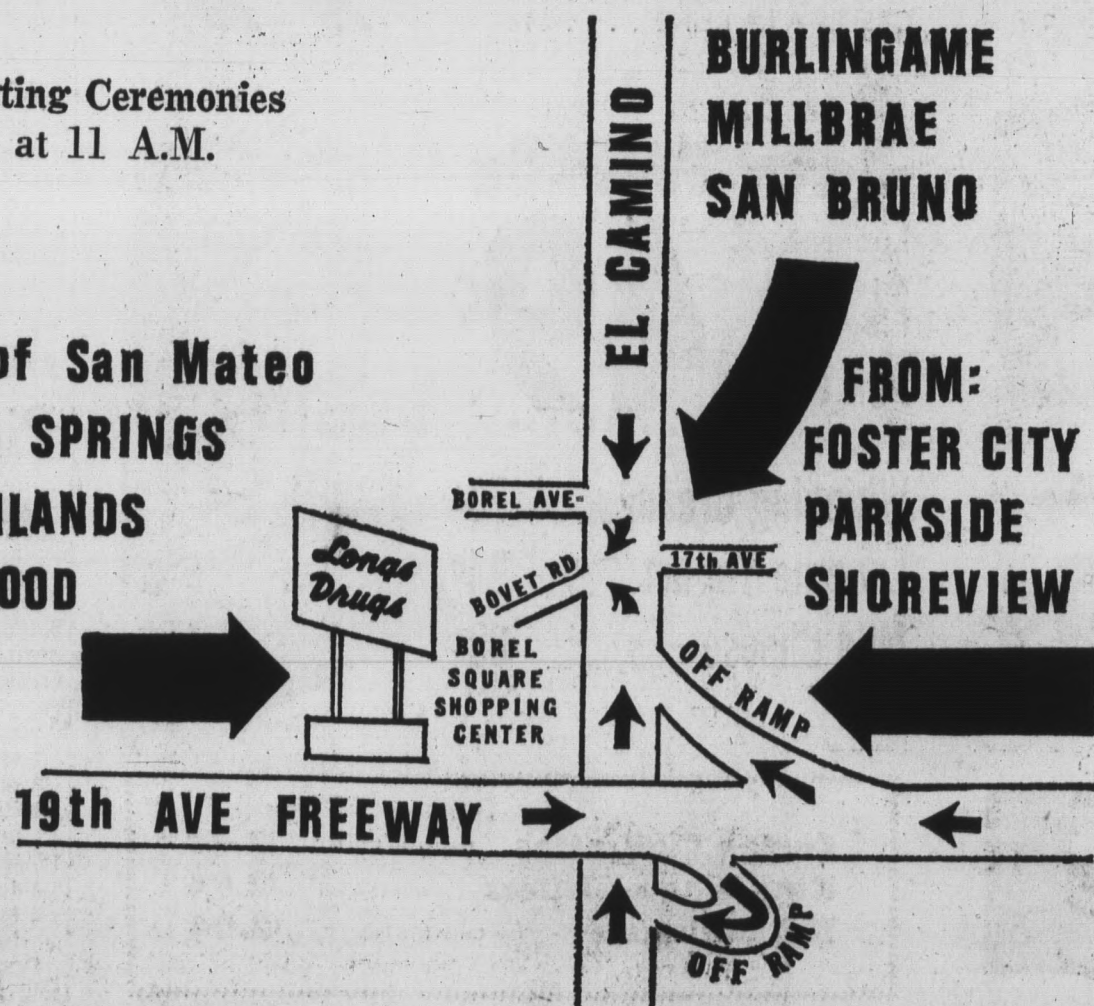

Longs is more than just a common ordinary drug store. You will find thousands upon thousands of items you can use in daily life . . . and at prices that will make you smile . . . of course, to serve your every drug need, we have a modern, up-to-date Prescription Department, staffed at all times by Graduate Registered Pharmacists.

In order to accomplish serving you properly, we have made it a point that our personnel are among the best in the retail industry. Store executives have been trained in other stores and have earned promotions to this newest location. They are taught that you, the customer, must be pleased, or our success is jeopardized.

We warmly invite you to visit our store . . . please bring the family!

THE POST'S SPORTS

El Camino Tops S.S.F. Nine, 5-2

Aided by the strong two-hit pitching of Dennis Gorman, El Camino High School's baseball team defeated South San Francisco 5-2 in a North Peninsula Athletic League contest on the loser's diamond Thursday.

Gorman walked none and was very economical with his pitches—57 strikes and 30 balls for seven innings.

But South San Francisco coach Bob Brian wasn't worried about Gorman's pitching. "We beat ourselves," he said. With good cause, because the Warriors were charged with five errors for the game.

"Well," Brian said ruefully, "it'll give us something to do in practice next week."

It was the first league contest for both teams.

Swim Signups Near Closing

The "Easter Learn to Swim" classes in Pacifica will be held the week of April 6-11, except for Sunday.

There are still some openings in the 1:45 p.m. and in the 2:30 p.m. classes.

The cost for the five 45-minute lessons is $2 for residents and $2.50 for non-residents.

This will be the last chance to get swimming lessons before the summer session in mid-June.

Registration for the Easter program is now being taken at the Recreation Department office at 70 Santa Maria in Pacifica.

VACATION SCHEDULE

Pacifica's nine playgrounds will be open Monday through Thursday of Easter vacation from 12:30 to 5 p.m.

The afternoon program will include a variety of activities from arts and crafts, to games, and special events built around the Easter Theme.

Additional information can be obtained from the playground leaders at Fairmont, Westview, Pacific Manor, Sharp Park, Vallejo, Ortega, Linda Mar, Pedro Valley, and Sanchez playgrounds.

KYA, T.N. FACULTY IN ACTION

The faculty of Terra Nova will play the KYA Oneders April 14, seeking their third win.

This year Rick Barry will play for the KYA Oneders and Don Delbon, coach at Terra Nova, who usually plays with the Oneders, will shift his allegiance to play with the faculty of Terra Nova.

Tickets are being sold now at the school store, for $1.25, and at the door of the night of the game, for $1.50.

Terra Nova Swimming Club New

BY ALICE REICHERT

One of Terra Nova's new organizations this year is the girls' synchronized swimming club. A part of the Girls' Athletic Association under the direction of Mrs. Janet Youngren and the management of Rosa Gersusa, the club, 17 strong, meet each Thursday during the school year to practice a variety of routines.

Synchronized swimming is different than any other swimming sport, in that it is swimming to music, using a combination of strokes and stunts. Participants must be above average swimmers, because the sport requires a knowledge of many strokes, the daring to try new stunts, and the endurance to continue the routine smoothly for the length of the record.

This is new to most of the girls, but their enthusiasm is tremendous.

This spring, the club will present a show for friends and family, including duets, trios, and performances by the entire group. Along with normal routines will be fancy diving, swimming to novelty music, and, of course, clown diving.

Volleyball Tourney For Teens

Well, it's getting to be that time of year again—when all the Daily City teen clubs sharpen up their volleyball skills for the annual tournament.

In preparation for the competitive event, the Roof Raisers Junior Teen Club, sponsored by the Daily City Recreation Department, will hold a practice sports night April 5. This activity replaces an already scheduled dance so that volleyball teams may be formed.

Roof Raisers need the full participation of its membership in order to enter the tournament. Come to the sports night at Westmont High School (girl's gym) April 5 from 7 to 9 p.m. There will be no charge, but members must provide their own transportation.

The volleyball tournament this year will be April 11, and two trophies are at stake.

The Roof Raisers recently enjoyed a bowling night at Serra Bowl where Helen Russiotti registered the best score for the evening.

The Know Names Junior Teen Club will feature six girls and six boys at their home team.

Pad Spikes Victorious

Serra High School poured on the power in the track events to out-finish Oceana and Terra Nova in a triangular meet on the Padre oval.

The Pads tallied 76 points in winning every running event except the mile, while Oceana was second with 62 and Terra Nova finished last with 20 points.

Tom Lennon and Jim Williams paced the Serra effort with two victories each. Lennon captured the 100-yard dash in 10.6 seconds and the 220 in 23.5 seconds. Williams prevailed in both hurdle events, annexing the 120 highs in 15.7 seconds and the 150 lows in 18 seconds flat.

Bill Duckett doubled for the Sharks, winning the 440 in 51.5 and then coming back to capture the mile in 4:37.2.

Serra's practice record is now 5-2.

Judea Award Presented D.C.'s Belotz

Alfred O. Belotz, 177 Westdale Avenue, Daly City, was presented with the Shofar Award by Rabbi Herbert Morris on behalf of the Boy Scouts of America during recent Boy Scout Sabbath services at the Temple on Brotherhood Way.

The National Jewish Committee on Scouting has established the Shofar Award to recognize outstanding service by adults in the promotion of scouting among Jewish boys. Belotz was chosen for this honor on the basis of demonstrating his religious convictions by personal participation in the religious, cultural and philanthropic life of his community. By exemplifying the American ideal of brotherhood, "He is a friend to all... and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion."

Belotz began his scout career in Providence, Rhode Island, in 1940, and became an Eagle Scout in 1945. This scout's long record of leadership in scouting in Narragansett and Silverado Area Councils has included service as Junior Assistant Scout Leader, Assistant Scout Master, Assistant Cub Master, Scout Master, Neighborhood Commissioner, and Assistant Advisor.

His service in 1954 with the San Francisco Council started in a dual capacity as scout master and a member-at-large of Lake Merced District. In 1957 he became Assistant District Commissioner, and served in that capacity until 1959 when he became District Camping Chairman.

Belotz has participated in numerous training courses and holds the Arrowhead honor and Scout's Award. He has been serving as committee chairman for Cub Pack 248, for the past seven years, and has been instrumental in organizing several Cub and Boy Scout units in the Westlake Area of Daly City. Belotz is an active member of the Rotary Club and currently president of the Daly City group. He is also affiliated with the Parent's Advisory Council of the Cerebral Palsy Association of San Mateo County and is presently chairman of that organization; as well as being active in the San Francisco Hearing and Speech Center Parent's Club and the Westlake Merchants Association. He has given generously of his time to the United Crusade and is a former member of Temple Judea's Board of Trustees, and is a faithful member of that congregation.

Belotz, his wife Bernice, and three children, reside in Daly City, where fifteen-year-old Bruce Belotz recently added to the distinguished Belotz family scouting record when he attained the rank of Eagle Scout.

Historical Pictures Given Daly City

IN MEMORY of his father, the late Henry Sundermann, Sr., a Daly City civic leader, Daly City police sergeant Henry Sundermann, Jr. (left, above), presented to the Daly City historical committee some pictures of historic value. Among them was a portrait of John D. Daly, founder of the north county city, and plans call for it to be re-framed and hung in the new Daly City Civic Center. The senior Sundermann compiled two books that have been copied, bound and placed in the growing collection of history of Daly City and Colma at the Daly City public library. Pictured are (left to right) Sgt. Sundermann, Velma Yule, Daly City councilman Anthony Giammona, Ethel Hahn, councilman Ed Dennis, Jean O'Rourke, city librarian Samuel Chandler, and Maude Hanselman. The Jefferson Scene Negro History Play Given

By WENDY WOOLERY

This has been a busy week for the students at Jefferson High.

A group of mostly Negro students from Sequoia High School staged a play in Room 507.

Their performance concerned Negro history a subject heretofore untouched by high schools in this area.

The title of their play was "A Voice in the Wilderness."

Sequoia's Negro History Club undertook the production.

Although they presented only excerpts, the effect was excellent. They made use of modern poetry, dance, works done in Civil War time, and many others. The Human Relations Committee has scheduled a visit to Sequoia High to see the performance in the near future.

Last week the annual spring Festival of Jefferson High School was in full swing. All the interested clubs, classes and organizations of the campus set up booths and whatever else they could think of for an afternoon of fun and enjoyment.

Some of the booths were haunted house in the bank room, pinatas in the courtyard, by the Spanish classes, a dance and talent show in the choral room by the A Cappella choir, and a Rho-Ta gallery by the freshman class.

Last Friday, the "talented" students performed in the annual Spring Festival assembly.

For the big Spring Production, Mrs. John Mongan has chosen to do "The Miser" by Moliere.

This is a rollicking comedy, done in a time when all was elegant.

Yet the slapstick stunts involved in this production are the play. It is the story of a miser, Harpagon, who refuses to admit that he is wealthy and insists on hoarding his money.

League Meet In Pacifica

A special meeting for all managers or individuals interested in playing in the Park, Beach and Recreation Department Slow Pitch and Lob Ball leagues will be held April 3rd at Oddstad Park in Linda Mar.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. Purpose for the meeting will be to discuss rules, organization and fees. All teams should be represented at this meeting.

Knight Netters Shutout Cap

Hillsdale High School's tennis team blanked Capuchino 7-0 on the loser's courts yesterday, completely dominating every game.

"They're a fine, strong, well-balanced team," said Mustang coach Don Mahaffey.

Hillsdale plays Mills at home next Tuesday while Cap draws at home.

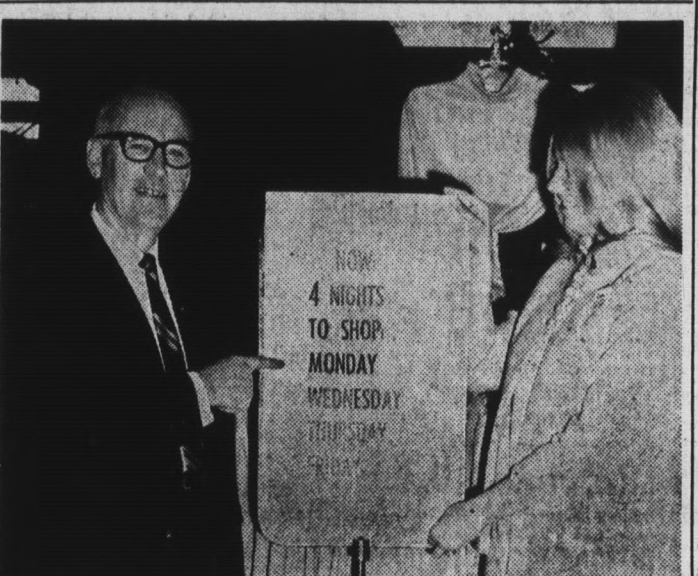

He tries to tell his children, Elise and Cleante, whom they are to marry and then announces that he is to marry a young girl by the name of Marianne.

This arrangement had been made by the most capable of match-makers, Frosine, but it turns out that Cleante is in love with Marianne and Elise... It promises to be a tremendous success, and will be performed in the gymnasium April 18, 19, and 20.

Mrs. Mongan has done something new with the casting of the play. She has "double-cast" the main roles, where one person will play the part for two performances and the other for the other performances.

In this respect, Tom Wintehalter and Rich Rocchetta will be seen as Harpagon, Irene O'Neil and Wendy Woolery as Elise, Rich Rocchetta as Vapromises, Phil Carrubba as Cleante, Dorothy Redmond and Wendy Woolery as Frosine. Tickets will be on sale at the door; the performances start at 8 p.m.

PENNEY'S in Westlake this week announced new store hours. Manager Don Davis said the store, in the Westlake Shopping Center, has expanded its night schedule. The store will be open on Monday nights, in addition to Wednesday through Friday nights. Holding the sign announcing new hours are Davis and Mrs. Leanna Graf. (Post Photo)

Decision Is Protested

Rain may have dampened some spirits in North Peninsula Athletic League baseball competition yesterday, but not those of Terra Nova coach Al Figone.

When the umpire called the Terra Nova-Jefferson game because of rain at the end of six yesterday with the Tigers trailing 4-1, Figone complained that the gentleman in black hadn't waited long enough to see how hard the rain was going to fall. So the game was protested.

The game marked Jefferson hurler Don Buolomini's third victory without a defeat this season. He fanned seven while allowing just one hit. Teammate Tony Moss aided the Jeff cause with two singles and a triple, driving in one run.

The Oceana-Westmoor tilt was more subdued in the dug-out, anyway. Westmoor's Grady Proctor walked in the tying run in the third inning and then served up a three-RBI double to Dave Wright. The game was called in the bottom of the sixth with Oceana leading, 5-1.

In a game played on Thursday El Camino defeated South San Francisco 5-2.

Capuchino Is Shut Out

Capuchino High School's baseball team lost to Riordan, 4-0, in a rain-abbreviated non-league contest played at Cap yesterday.

Shortstop Larry Camilleri collected the Mustang's only hit in the five-inning contest, Capuchino's third loss against one victory for the practice season.

Mustang coach Don Laclergue said that he had a chance to get a good look at all his players by now, and that his lineup should be "pretty well straightened out" by the time Cap takes on Serra at San Mateo's Fitzgerald Field next Friday.

Third Place Counts Big For Oceana

Perseverance and a pair of unexpected third places reaped big track and field dividends yesterday for Oceana High School in a rain-swept North Peninsula League dual meet with the El Camino Colts.

Bone-numbing rain struck the meet prior to the start of the two-mile run, in which Oceana had little chance of gaining a point, based on prior performance.

But Shark Coach Ted Young, refusing to accept defeat, insisted the meet go on and was rewarded for his dedication when unsung Dan Woodward came home in third place. His point proved to be the margin of Oceana's 64-63 victory.

Woodward, who had been training only five days prior to yesterday's meet, slogged through the rain behind two Colt runners who could have used company.

Oceana also got another upset third from Mike Rourt in the long jump. Tom and Tim Shershen each scored double victories, including the 440 relay.

In another NPL meet, the issue was hardly as doubtful as Westmoor's depth-blessed squad bombed Jefferson, 103-24. Kim Clark took both hurdles races and Narvis Thompson won the sprints to highlight Westmoor's overwhelming show of strength.

Friedenberg Tells Views on Needs

South San Francisco Council Candidate David J. Friedenberg is basing his campaign on the need for new thoroughfares in the city, lack of adequate public transportation, "and the need for new thinking and dynamic leadership to solve our many problems."

Friedenberg, an attorney with offices in Daly City, said it is "extremely difficult to get from one part of South San Francisco to another, and narrow residential streets are heavily traveled because there is an inadequate number of main thoroughfares."

"This creates a dangerous situation in our residential districts," he said, "and is also the cause of major inconvenience for motorists."

The candidate said there is also great need for "some sort of public transportation" within the city, though he does not advocate a city-operated bus line.

"I am not yet certain what the solution to this problem is, but something must be done to provide transportation for housewives and those residents of the city who do not own automobiles," he said.

Friedenberg also promises to work for other capital improvements.

"For many years, the city council has promised the residents a swimming pool, and a fire station west of Junipero Serra Boulevard," he said. "Curing a recent fire in West Park, it took more than 11 minutes for the fire truck to arrive."

There is also an urgent need for progress on the downtown redevelopment program, and the longer the city waits on all these needed projects "the more they will cost," he said.

"In 1962, South San Francisco paid a substantial sum for a

Kenny Burt Trio At Thunderbolt Hotel

KENNY BURT, who has been a featured banjo soloist with such names as Spike Jones and Lawrence Welk, opened with his Trio, last Wednesday night, in the plush lounge of Millbrae's Thunderbolt Hotel. An accomplished pianist, guitarist, drummer and organist, Kenny has appeared with several of the biggest names in show business, including John Garry, Dennis Day and Art Linkletter. The Kenny Burt Trio performs nightly, Tuesday through Saturday, for dinner-dancing in the elegant Chez Michel restaurant. . . . Attractive models will fashion clothes from H. Liches to make your luncheon more enjoyable every Wednesday at Joe's of Hillsdale. Specializing in such dishes as Veal Scallopine and Parmigiana. A visit to "Joe's" of Hillsdale for cocktails, luncheon, dinner, or a banquet will be well worth it. . . .

PLENTY OF FREE PARKING is now an additional feature at Fabbro's in Redwood City. Since the facilities have been moved to the rear of the restaurant, the parking area is almost doubled in size. Owner Frank Fabbro's thriving restaurant more than needs the additional space. . . . Last Sunday at Burlingame's Matthei's Swiss restaurant owners Wilfried and Marion Blarner hosted a steady stream of diners throughout the evening. If you're particular enough to appreciate the ultimate in Swiss and Continental cuisine, then Chef Wilfried's gourmet selections are certain to please you. . . . Sebastians of Belmont owners, Mike Kerns and Jerry Teademan report that dining patrons of the former Doran's restaurant, located on the same El Camino Real site, are starting to frequent the recently opened Sebastians — particularly for luncheon, which is served daily from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

NOEL HARRISON, star of "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." and folk singer Penny Nichols will top the entertainment agenda at the hungry i in a special song festival, next week. Noel Harrison started his career singing in small clubs and coffee houses while traveling throughout Europe as a cafe entertainer. He learned to speak, act and sing in four different languages. Penny Nichols, a singer who writes — a writer who sings, spent about six months in San Francisco working at the Spaghetti factory and living in Sausalito, where her song "Summer Rain" was written. . . . Joe Di Maggio, the famed Yankee Clipper of baseball fame, now with the Oakland Athletic baseball team as a veep for public relations, hosted a party of friends at Finocchio's new revue. The antics of lanky comedian Elton Paris, who dedicated an ad lib baseball number to the ex-star, went over big with the group.

IF YOU'RE HAVING DINNER at the Belmont Chuck Wagon, and your companion whispers to you, "Isn't that Jack Benny at the next table?" — chances are, she's right. Host Al Malatesta tells us Belmont Chuck Wagon is a favorite dining spot for the stars and cast of Circle Star Theater productions. . . . Sandra Marin and Arthur Apostolakis won the initial Wednesday night Dance Contest at the Hi-Fi Room South and "danced away" with a trip to Reno. Sandy and Art will now have a chance to participate for the Las Vegas Grand Prize. The Other Ones, the "hard rock" band providing sounds for the dance contest, can also be heard Friday and Saturday night. . . . Handsome Rick Lavin, plankman at Millbrae's Blue Peacock, is scheduled to become a proud papa sometime next month. The thought of the big event already has Rick buying cigars and speaking eagerly of "my boy."

THE HILLSDALE INN'S Sportsman's Steak Pit has done it again! Famous for steaks prepared over an open fire, the Steak Pit now introduces another specialty — "Chicago-style" Spare ribs. "Spareribs will be a regular menu item from now on," said catering manager Fred Williams as he very carefully took inventory of the tender steak cuts to be served that evening. . . . The nimble fingers of Eddie Plutte, well-known throughout the country as a bundle of talent at the keyboard, opened last weekend at Bruno's in the Mission District. A newly installed pianobar, with Eddie presiding, will fill the room with nostalgia — favorites old and new in Bruno's elegant sip and dine atmosphere. . . . The Ink Spots, one of the most successful recording groups in the annals of popular music opened Monday in the Cabana Hotel's Nero's Nook through April 13.

FOR AN AWESOME VIEW, Frank Torres' Montara Beach Hotel is situated for one of the most picturesque settings on California's coastside. Just a few miles down the coast from the famous Devils Slide area on Highway One, diners may enjoy their meals while gazing out over the rolling waves of the blue Pacific. After dinner, many patrons walk down the stairway to the beach and stroll along the shore. . . . Note from Bee and Ray Goman of Goman's Gay 60's: they are now serving luncheon in the old John's Rendezvous manner (their Gay 60's is located at the former site of John's Rendezvous). . . . This had to happen sooner or later: Chuck Herscher, the Oldsmobile "man about town," and his sweet Virginia again heeded Bright Lights' advice and feasted on Hickory smoked bacon, ranch eggs, buttermilk pancakes and coffee at Fosters Original Pancake and Chicken House. "Best Breakfast Special we ever ordered — and all for one buck," was Chuck's comment the following day.

Low Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina is dining headquarters for many restaurateurs on their night off. In fact, it has become such a popular dining spot for them that it is known as "A restaurant man's restaurant."

Besides serving the excellent food which has long been a Bruno Scatena trademark, the Daly City International Joe's attractions include the exotic South Seas atmosphere of the Tiki Room and the lavish banquet facilities of the Gold Room, which accommodates parties of 50 to 150 people.

RETIREMENT PARTY — After 18 years of greeting the Villa Chartier restaurant guests, Edna Fuller has retired. Last week, Emerson Murfee's restaurant staff, headed up by Olin Jones, general manager of this distinguished restaurant, hosted a champagne and cake party for Edna, and a goodly time and "cry" was had by all. Olin Jones is pictured here presenting lovely Edna with a gift and plaque in appreciation of her 18 years of devoted service.

Enjoy A "Total Evening" At Scotty Campbell's

It's a "total evening" at Scotty Campbell's, a prestige restaurant and cocktail lounge in Redwood City. In eating words, you make a dinner reservation at the hostess desk; relax in the fireplace cocktail lounge; enjoy a full course prime rib, steak, or spare rib dinner; be entertained by soft background music; watch owners Theresa and Mary Lou gracefully dart about the dining room seating guests, answering the telephone, taking reservations and putting the red carpet treatment in action.

After dinner, stop by the bar and exchange ideas with "Blackie," the bartender, who can converse on any subject — from baseball to Beethoven. First thing you know it's 2 a.m. and you're already looking forward to another "total evening" at Scotty Campbell's.

Modena Seeks Coast Re-Election

Incumbent Pacifica Councilman Daniel J. Modena, a young attorney who won his seat in a special election less than five months ago, will be seeking election to his first full term April 9.

Modena won over seven other candidates in the hotly contested election last November for the seat of former councilman James Fox, who resigned from his post in order to move to another city.

Seven candidates, including Modena and incumbent Mayor Mrs. Grace McCarthy, are vying for two council seats in next month's voting.

Modena pledged to "continue efforts to bring about further business development in the city, especially in the area of beach development, in order to provide more tax revenues for our many urgent projects."

"We have a definite need for more recreational facilities for our teen-agers," he said, "and there is also a need for more police and fire department personnel."

"All these things will require additional sources of revenue," he said, "and I feel the best means of obtaining these funds is through the sales taxes and other revenues which would result from proper development of our beaches."

Modena also promises to continue supporting the long-awaited Route 106 project, "Even if it takes 10 years to see it completed."

This project, a proposed freeway connecting Pacifica directly with the Bayshore Freeway and the International Airport area, "is vital to the future of our city," according to Modena.

A native of Heidelberg, he has resided in Pacifica for several years, and is a graduate of the University of California's Hastings College of Law.

He is also a graduate of the University of Santa Clara.

Modena has served on the Pacifica Personnel Advisory Board, the Tenth Anniversary Steering Committee, Linda Mar P-TA, American Red Cross, Heart Fund, and numerous other civic organizations and the Democratic Central Committee.

He is legal counsel for the California Jaycees 15th District, president of the San Mateo Bar, and treasurer of the North County Bar Association.

Daly City Employees Honored

Daly City honored 36 of its long-time employees Friday night with all the fanfare of a Hollywood Oscar awards night.

Each of the city's five councilmen participated in the event, handing out the awards and personally congratulating each of the recipients following a buffet-style dinner at the War Memorial Building.

A special award for the best safety suggestion of the year was presented to Jerry Judge, of the Civil Engineering Office, for his idea concerning a minimum set of safety standards to be designed and made a part of each job specification for all contracted work done in the city.

Presenting the special award was Ricco Lagomarsini, president of the San Mateo County insurance agents association.

Other award recipients were: William J. Bryne (streets); Amadeo F. Gonella (parks);

Bomb Threat At Airport Control Tower

As other parts of the Bay Area were subject to various forms of sabotage and harassment, the San Francisco International Airport received a bomb threat over the past weekend.

According to officials at the San Mateo County facility, the threat occurred just prior to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, and was received over the telephone by an employee of American Airlines.

The caller claimed that several "sticks of nitroglycerin" had been placed in the vicinity of the airport control tower and were set to explode at 3:30 p.m. San Mateo County Sheriff's deputies searched the area without result.

Airport officials said that if the tower were knocked out operations would be switched immediately to the mobile radio units.

Ford Division, which achieved industry sales leadership in both cars and trucks for the first two months of 1968, conducted a major meeting in San Francisco recently.

J. B. Naughton, assistant general manager, Ford Division, Ford Motor Company, addressed the dealers from the Northern California - Nevada - Oregon area.

During the first two months of 1968, Ford dealers sold 297,491 cars, compared to 255,753 in the same period a year ago, according to Naughton.

"Leading the way in this sales recovery is the Fairlane series, headed by the Torino," Naughton said. "Total Fairlane sales for the January-February period were 59,638, up 89 per cent over last year. The Torino and Torino GT models, introduced last fall, are accounting for about 60 per cent of all Fairlane sales."

"The strong showing in cars sales for the two months — during which retail orders were up 37 per cent — has set the stage for what we believe will be a banner sales year for the division and our dealers. However, even more impressive was the record set in truck sales (96,185 vs. 84,943 in the corresponding two-months of 1967). We have regained (sooner than we expected) the industry leadership we had in truck sales prior to the strike."

"We're off to a fast start for the year," Naughton concluded. "Public acceptance of our cars and trucks clearly indicates that sales will continue to improve."

A new generation of Mercedes-Benz passenger cars, incorporating the latest in engineering developments and modern styling, has been introduced by Daimler-Benz A.G., manufacturers of the German built automobiles.

New, higher-torque engines and a host of engineering features are part of the reshaping of the entire line of Mercedes-Benz motor cars. Outstanding development of the new line is a totally restyled body for the medium-priced range of cars.

While completely distinguished from the higher-priced models, these cars now reflect the characteristic styling first introduced on the 250 line in 1955.

The higher-priced models continue relatively unchanged in appearance, but have been given new and larger engines with considerably greater torque, for improved performance in the lower engine ranges.

In addition to clean, modern styling, the redesigned cars offer improved driving performance, higher standards of comfort and interior appointments and still further advances in safety.

A new type of consumer — richer and less tolerant of poor service for his car — is beginning to influence the automobile industry in this country, according to William S. Pickett, sales vice president, American Motors Corporation.

Pickett told the 39th Annual Convention of the Northern California Motor Car Dealers Association that 30 per cent of a consumer panel recently interviewed were dissatisfied with car service at their dealerships.

Consumers are beginning to shop for service just as they shop for cars.

"Car buyers today have almost 50 per cent more disposable income than they had 10 years ago," he declared, "and as they have grown richer, they've grown more sophisticated. They are not willing to put up with mistreatment, delays and shoddy workmanship."

The country is entering an era in which the consumer is "sovereign," he said. "Nearly everybody, including the government, is at last paying serious attention to him," Pickett said. "The automobile industry had better not miss this bandwagon."

The richer — and more critical — segment of the car-buying public is also the industry's best customers, according to a recent Lou Harris survey.

"And as he gets richer, he's going to be more critical," and

Disneyland Will Host Graduates

At least 21 Northern California high school graduating classes will be among nearly 300 schools attending All-Nite Graduation parties at Disneyland this June.

Traveling by bus and plane, the young graduates from eight Northern counties will attend the first of five such parties June 6.

Included are Oceana and Terra Nova High schools in Pacifica. Each year more schools in the Northern half of the state are added to the list of regulars for the Disneyland Grad events.

Running from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m., the Disneyland parties are open only to graduating seniors and their dates from participating schools.

The parties include big name entertainers, music and dancing throughout the park in addition to Disneyland's world famous adventures.

Ex-Wife Shot In Neck In Home Row

A Daly City man shot his ex-wife in the neck with a .22-caliber pistol during an argument at his home early Sunday morning.

Irene Maude Featherstone, 50, was allegedly shot by her former husband, Harry Featherstone, 60, as she attempted to call a friend on the telephone from his Moltke Street home.

Investigators said the couple had spent the evening at a local bar after Mrs. Featherstone, who obtained a divorce several years ago, stopped by to visit her ex-husband. The couple returned to the Moltke Street house where the argument began shortly before 2 a.m.

According to the victim, Featherstone became upset when she tried to call a friend. As he brandished the small-caliber pistol it discharged, hitting Mrs. Featherstone in the neck.

The accused was booked into city jail and charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He was later released on $1,250 bail.

Mrs. Featherstone was taken to Mary's Help Hospital where she was reported in satisfactory condition.

community Center at 337 Alta Vista in South San Francisco on Friday, at 8 p.m., to determine if there is enough local interest to warrant a local chapter of the American Recorder Society serving San Francisco and San Mateo Counties.

Representatives of the society will be present as well as members of the San Bruno branch of the American Association of University Women who are sponsoring the event.

AAUW now has a recorder group of eight members who play upon request for local organizations and a beginners group of eight.

Co-ordinator of the group is Mrs. John B. Arnaude of South San Francisco. She stressed that the AAUW recorder group is for members only, but that a local chapter of the American Recorder Society, if formed, will be for all residents of the community, and will probably meet weekly. Mrs. Arnaude can be contacted for further information.

One of the first instruments, the recorder — from little soprano to imposing bass — is again being played with increasing popularity as many explore the wealth of music written for it through the ages.

Redhead Ignores Shots Fired at Car

Two shots fired at a stolen car in Pacifica by a motorcycle patrolman Sunday failed to faze the driver, a 98-pound redhead, the officer reported.

Highway Patrolman R. G. Winder said the driver, Mrs. Nonie Hargraves, 52, of San Francisco, just kept kept on going.

Winder said he first spotted the stolen car going north on Cabrillo Highway at 1:50 p.m. Traffic was heavy and several motorists were waving frantically at the officer and pointing to the suspect car. Winder said the auto was weaving badly and forcing other cars to take evasive action. He turned on red light and siren, the officer said, but the car speeded up.

Winder said he pulled alongside and yelled at Mrs. Hargraves to pull over. She looked at him, the officer reported, sneered and swerved the auto sharply toward the motorcycle. She repeated the action several times during the chase Winder said.

Finally, on the Edgemar Freeway, Winder fired two shots at the left rear tire. The bullets hit the hubcap, however, and the car kept on going, turning south on Skyline Boulevard.

Youth Hurt In Plunge

A Pacifica youth was hospitalized with multiple injuries Saturday after he fell 100 feet down a steep cliff behind Esplanade Avenue, fire department spokesmen said.

Kenneth Bennett, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bennett of 475 Esplanade, is reported in satisfactory condition at Kaiser Hospital, where he is undergoing treatment for multiple fractures of the pelvis and a fractured thumb.

The youth apparently lost his footing at the top of the cliff about 4:30 p.m. while talking to two other boys on the beach below, authorities said.

The other youths, Jim Anderson and Darrell Nutt, were roasting hot dogs on the beach, and the Bennett child indicated he was coming to join them, firemen said.

Moments later, they heard him moaning a few feet away. No one witnessed the fall, according to firemen.

Bennett was carried to the top of the cliff in the fire department's rescue basket, and taken to Mary's Help Hospital. He was later transferred to Kaiser.

CITY Backs 2 Bruno Challengers

Council candidates Cathy Smallwood and MacRobert Stewart received the endorsement of Community Interaction Through You at its candidates' night on March 21.

Mrs. Smallwood and Stewart both appeared before the group and presented their views on the issues involved in the campaign. Both expressed confidence that Daly City can become a better place in which to live with effective government in city hall.

Mrs. Smallwood, a five-year resident of Daly City, based her candidacy on the need of the city for better transportation, communication among all citizens, a re-study of the tax program and a search for alternative methods of raising revenue and new recreation programs.

Stewart, a local businessman, centered his remarks on the ineffectuality of local government. It was his contention that the current council does not adequately represent the people of the city.

Gun Blast Kills Husband

A South San Francisco man killed himself with a shotgun Saturday night in an apparent suicide, police reported.

Gerald H. Robinson, 41, shot himself in the driveway of his residence at 15 Wilms Avenue about 9:30 p.m., officers said, after arguing with his wife.

He reportedly had "threatened to do it several times before," and his wife did not take him seriously when he took the gun outside, police said.

Ryan Keeps Fighting On Bridge Issue

Time is getting short for Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan (Dem-South San Francisco) in his 12-year fight against the proposed Southern Crossing of San Francisco Bay, illuminated in a verbal exchange at a Bay Conservation and Development Commission meeting in San Francisco.

E. R. Foley, chief engineer of the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings, told BCDC the crossing construction, between India Basin in San Francisco and the East Bay could start in 1970 and be completed by 1974. "I'll fight till Mr. Foley cuts the ribbon," Ryan remarked.

Ryan's latest attempt to stop the India Basin crossing received little encouragement yesterday, although the commission did agree to put over its vote on Bay Toll Crossings excavation permits until its meeting next week.

San Mateo County Supervisor Robert St. Clair noted that should the permits be approved he hoped plans still could be changed in the near future, to which Foley replied they couldn't be.

The excavation would be for an underground tube beneath the Oakland Estuary and near the Bay Area Rapid Transit tube now under construction. The Southern Crossing Bridge, would be built from Alameda Bay Farm Island to India Basin, just north of Candlestick Cove.

Ryan for years has supported the other proposed western terminus at Sierra Point in north San Mateo County, which he claims would better serve the entire region and over which he got into an argument yesterday with San Francisco City Administrator Thomas Mellon, the latter accusing him of just trying to get himself re-elected to office with this last-ditch effort to torpedo the India Basin terminus.

Ryan, however, claimed that the bridge would compete with the BARTD crossing and that where it is it will serve "middle-class commuters" between the "static" population areas of southern San Francisco and downtown Oakland, leaving the rapidly-growing northern San Mateo and southern Alameda counties with no direct link.

There could be money problems such as BARTD's too, Ryan said. "They'll be coming up and asking us for more money because it doesn't work. I don't want to be in the position of I told you so."

S.S.F. Booters Upset SFAC

Independiente of South San Francisco, enjoying the Competition at Balboa Field, upset San Francisco league champion S.F. Athletic Club, 3-2, in featured State Cup action.

In the matches, Harmonie of Palo Alto ousted Turn Verein of Sacramento, 4-2, the Greek Americans whipped Union Espanola, 2-0, and Teutonia edged Concordia, 1-0.

However, the Teuts suffered a grave setback when former San Jose State All-American Gary Iacini injured his knee. Iacini, who prepped at South San Francisco High, was also a soccer star at College of San Mateo.
